WANT PEACE WITH MERCY IN MEXICO

Wilson Asked to Influence
Carranza in Obtaining General Amnesty

CARBAJAL IS SEEKING GUARANTEES FOR ALL

If These Are Not Given Fed-
erals Will Resist Entry Into the Capital

PROTECTION OF LIFE AND PROPERTY ASKED

Washington, July 22.—Ambassador
DeGama of Brazil and Ministers
Suarez and Naon of Chile and Argentina respectively, the three mediators
in the Mexican affair, appealed to President Wilson to-day to have the United States use its influence with General Carranza to obtain a general amnesty for those who supported the Huerta government.

It was the first formal call of the three mediators since the conference at Niagara Falls adjourned. They were accompanied by Secretary Bryan and for nearly an hour discussed the Mexican situation in all its phases.
They expressed a view that Francisco Carbaljal was ready to turn over the government to General Carranza,
but wanted guarantees that there would be no wholesale executions, arrests or confiscation of property.

They told President Wilson that Carbaljal would not surrender unconditionally and that unless these guarantees for the protection of the lives
and property of those who supported Huerta were given, would concentrate all the military forces and resist to the utmost any effort to invade Mexico City.

The president and Mr. Bryan listened attentively to the views of the South American diplomats especially as they indicated that their governments probably would be unable to recognize any administration in Mexico which refused to give quarter to its enemy or re-establish itself by peaceful means in accordance with civilized practice among nations.

That the influence of the United States was being relied on by Provisional President Carbaljal to obtain satisfactory terms from the constitutionalists was explained also by Jose Castellot, personal representative of Carbaljal. The mediators conferred not only with Mr. Castellot but also with Emilio Rabasa, head of the delegation which represented Huerta at the Niagara conference.

Mr. Castellot was confident the American government never would permit an arbitrary entry into Mexico City. He said the Carbaljal government wanted no share in the future administration, no validation of the acts of Huerta, but guarantees for lives and property.

Word that the commission which will represent Carbaljal in negotiations with Carranza had left Mexico City came to Castellot to-day.

The commission departed without obtaining credentials but since Carranza indicated to the American government that he would recognize the commission, full instructions and authorization will be sent them.

General Carranza has suggested that the conference take place at Saltillo.

On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, July 22.—By wireless to San Diego.
On the arrival of the flagship California here to-day, approaches were received from both the federal and constitutionalist camps indicating that the generals on both sides would be glad to meet on board the flagship, or some other foreign cruiser, to arrange an armistice during a possible evacuation of the city by the federals.

Six hundred troops of those who evacuated Guaymas recently are now known to have landed at Mazatlan,
which would indicate a possible rear
attack, in conjunction with the troops at Mazatlan, on the forces of General Obregon.

A. W. McCall, of the American Lead Trust company, is a refugee aboard an American warship at La Paz. The vessel in which he attempted to escape
was flying the Mexican flag and con-stitutionalists seized it.

BRITONS AND GERMANS ARE ADVISED TO LEAVE

Mexico City, July 22.—The British and German ministers have advised their nationals living in suburban towns in the federal district to leave their homes and concentrate in the capital in view of the possibility of attacks on their towns by the followers of Emiliano Zapata. Constitutionalists who attempted to approach the capital yesterday were repulsed by federal forces.

UNITED STATES IS SENDING TROOPS TO HAYTIAN REPUBLIC

Washington, July 22.—Plans for mobilizing at least one thousand marines within striking distance of Hayti and the Dominican republic, will move forward another step to-morrow with the arrival of the naval transport Prairie at Guantanamo from Vera Cruz. The Prairie will have the full complement of officers of the marines already at Guantanamo and will remain there to transport the force to Hayti should an emergency arise, while the Hancock is away for more troops.

With these preparations President Wilson's decision as to what action the United States shall take to quell the revolutions in the island republic and satisfy the pressure of European creditors will be awaited. War and navy officials are confident that peace can be restored on the island only by the active intervention of the United States,
and are perfecting their plans.

Solon Menos, the Haytian minister, conferred to-day with Secretary Bryan
and urged that intervention would result in a number of counter revolutions, and bring about the dissolution of the present government and even the abdication of the president.

"I count on the spirit of justice of the American people," said Minister Menos, referring to intervention, "to restrain them from taking the step which would be so harmful to Hayti." Present mobilization of marines in the vicinity of the islands, the minister stated, had been officially explained by the state department as a precautionary step taken to avert possible trouble, and was not he felt sure, an indication that plans actually existed for the landing of United States troops in Hayti.

HIGHLANDERS WIN 22 PRIZES AT RICHMOND

First Day of Meeting Victoria Regiment Men Prove Shooting Ability.

Vancouver, July 22.—At the Richmond range yesterday, at the opening day of the annual meeting of the B. C. Rifle association, the British Highlanders won all the honors.

Col-Sergt. Smith won the grand aggregate sweepstakes, and Lance-Sergt. Watson the short range aggregate. Sergt. Peacock and Pay-Sergt. Tapley were high up. Tapley was high up in the grand aggregate.

The Highlanders won 22 prizes.
Pte. Hughes won the 200 yards sweepstakes, and the following members of the battalion were placed:
500 yards—Ptes. Burton, Bugler
Richardson, Watson and Smith.
600 yards—Pay-Sergt. Tapley, Sergt. Watson and Sergt. Peacock.
Aggregate—Watson, Tapley, Peacock, Richardson and Smith.
800 yards—Smith and Peacock.
1,000 yards—Smith and Tapley.

STRIKE SITUATION IN RUSSIA SERIOUS ONE SEVERAL MEN WOUNDED

St. Petersburg, July 22.—The general strike in Russia took on a more serious aspect to-day when armed conflicts occurred in the streets and resulted in the wounding of many police, Cossacks and strikers. Just outside the capital a passenger train on the coast line to Finland was held up by strikers, the engine forced to quit the locomotive under threat of being shot and the passengers all driven out of the cars.

The strikers, who numbered 300, then cut down the telegraph poles and raised obstructions on the tracks. A detachment of Cossacks and gendarmes arrived and drove off the wreckers.
Traffic was then resumed, but every train was drawn by a locomotive with an armed escort.

At Riga the strike movement was reported to be spreading and 40,000 men in that city struck, while in many other cities in all parts of the empire thousands of men were reported to have left their employment.

CONDUCTOR DISMISSED ALL OTHERS ON STRIKE

St. John, N. B., July 22.—The members of local street railway men's union
are on strike because of matters arising out of the dismissal of a conductor for alleged breach of the rules.
They did not report for work this morning following a decision reached after an all-night meeting. A few cars are running, and in one section buses are being operated by friends of the men.

MILITARY INQUIRY AT OTTAWA NEXT MONDAY

London, Ont., July 22.—Word is to hand that a military court of inquiry is to sit in Ottawa on Monday morn-ning next to investigate the finding of liquor in the tents of the Sixth Field Battalion in the city recently, which resulted in Major Wood Leonard, head of the battery, being asked to resign by Col. Sam Hughes. Major Leonard will be present at the inquiry and probably a number of fellow officers of the battery.

HIT WRONG TARGET LOST KOLAPORE CUP

Bullock Pierced Other Man's Bullseye at 500 Yards
in Mistake

RIFLE ASSOCIATION AGAINST WAR OFFICE

First Stage of King's Prize is Shot at Bisley Range
To-day

ENTRIES THIS YEAR ARE MORE THAN THOUSAND

Bisley, Eng., July 22.—How Canada lost the Kolapore cup yesterday is easily explained. Sergt. S. G. Bullock, 2nd Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, mistook his target and placed a bull's eye in the wrong canvas at the five hundredyard range. Canada at the last range gained two points on the Australians
and would have been sure of the cup if only Sergt. Bullock's bull had been legitimate.

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 22.—Last night's meeting to discuss the future of the National Rifle Association forms
a fruitful topic of conversation
amongst the marksmen this morning.
Lord Chylesmore appears to think he may influence the war office if he is able to present a written declaration
from the overseas commandants that they will have none of the new conditions the army authorities seek to impose at Bisley.

The attitude of the general body of members at last night's meeting was entirely towards resisting the war office and stiffening the backs of the N.
R. A. council, who appear to profess that they have done all which is open to them to maintain the Bisley meeting under the present conditions.

The extreme heat of the early morning had given way to prospects of a storm when firing opened this morning at the 200 yard range of the first stage of the king's prize, the rifleman's blue ribbon. The light was very bad and the wind perplexing, and consequently it is doubtful if high scores will rule to-day. There was the usual keen struggle for the 300 top places which qualify for the second stage on Friday. The one hundred leading the second stage enter the final stage on Saturday, but every score in each stage counts towards the aggregate of the competition which settles who shall be king's prize man for the year.

Entries numbered 1,049. The first stage consists of seven shots each at two, five and six hundred yards, the highest aggregate at the stage taking the N. R. A. bronze medal and badge.
Ties for qualifying places in the second stage will be shot off to-morrow.

At the 200 yards range Sergt. Bullock,
Toronto, and Col-Sergt. Stoddart, Hamilton, were the best Canadian shooters, being each one short of the possible with 34. Ten made 33, while a number went below 30.

Cadet Harris, who is shooting as an unattached Canadian, is not eligible for the king's prize, so that only 26
Canadians are shooting.

Following are the individual Canadian scores at 200 yards: Sergt.
Armstrong, Halifax, 32; Corp. Bea, Montreal, 30; Lieut. Bennett, Halifax,
29; Lieut. Brooks, Okanagan Landing,
33; Col. Brown, Toronto, 31; Sergt.
Bullock, Toronto, 34; Pte. Emalle, Toronto, 33; Pte. Falconer, Alma, 31;
Staff-Sergt. Hawkins, Toronto, 30; Pte.
Henderson, Dundas, 33; Major King, Bowmanville, 39; Staff-Sergt. Laman, Halifax, 33; Pte. Lowery, Guelph, 33;
Sergt. Martin, Calgary, 33; Lieut.
Morrison, Toronto, 33; Sergt. McCoy, Hamilton, 30; Q.-M.-S. McInnes, Edmonton, 33; Sergt. McKie, Guelph, 43;
Lieut. McLean, Hopewell, 33; Piper McLeod, Toronto, 28; Lieut. Neale, Toronto, 31; Gunner Noble, Montreal, 32; Pte. Riddell, Toronto, 33; Sergt. Russell, Ottawa, 33; Col-Sergt. Stoddart, Hamilton, 34; Sergt. Graham, Toronto, 32.

Sergt. A. Martin, Calgary, finished in fourth place in the Daily Graphic and Sergt. G. W. Russell Ottawa, was sixth, each winning sketches and 25. Lieut.
Morrison, Toronto 56th, won sketches
and 15.

In the Duke of Cambridge, fired yesterday, Pte. E. A. Lowry, 20th Regt.
Guelph, Ont., is tied for first place with three others, and will shoot off for first money. Sergt. McCoy 74th, Sergt. Graham 93rd and Sergt. Martin 103rd, each won 15 in this competition.

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS IS OPENED AT LOURDES

Lourdes, France, July 22.—Cardinal Granito di Belmonte-Genaro, who represents the pope at the international eucharistic congress, opened the first session to-day with a speech of welcome to the delegates. He expressed his pleasure at seeing such a large representation from foreign lands and alluded especially to the delegations from Canada and the United States.

STEAM UP ON KOMAGATA SAILS TO-MORROW MORNING

Vancouver Police "Sore"—Mayor Baxter Thinks Hindus Jockeyed the Officials of Canadian Government and Have Made Them Appear Ridiculous

Vancouver, July 22.—Captain Yamamoto has fixed the departure of the Hindu ship for 5 a.m. Thursday.

So certain were the Dominion immigration officials this morning that Gurdit Singh would keep his promise of last night and allow the Komagata Maru to sail to China now that it has been agreed to provision her, that none of the staff thought it worth while to appear before the usual 9 o'clock time for opening the office. At that hour the Komagata was still at anchor and a cable's length away lay the Rainbow
in her dinghy gray last year's war paint. Smoke was issuing from the Komagata's funnel and apparently the vessel had steam up for her return passage. Last night the Hindus claimed to be hungry and their immediate needs were satisfied with food sent out by the officials.

The city police are feeling rather sore at the turn of events. There is a certain feeling among the officers that they were called on to take all the chances and were forced to take an awful beating under conditions where no other result was possible in the Sunday morning attack. For this the Hindus met no punishment they complain, and yesterday the immigration
people were glad enough to resume ne-

POLITICS INTRODUCED IN CAILLAUX TRIAL

Diplomatic Documents Mentioned Are Declared to Be Only Pretended Ones

Paris, July 22.—Politics was the predominating factor to-day in connection with the trial of Mme. Caillaux for the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro. The French government was understood to be greatly concerned in regard to the diplomatic documents mentioned at yesterday's hearing as having been in the possession of the assassinated editor. These documents were later handed over to President Poincare, who passed them
on to the foreign office.

Senator Bienvenu Martin, acting minister of foreign affairs, was up
most of the night, and an active interchange of telegrams took place between him and Premier Rene Viviani,
now in Russia with the president.

Joseph Caillaux, the prisoner's husband, and Fernand Labori, his counsel, made a vehement demand that the documents should be produced in court.
It is understood that the premier, anticipating such a demand, left instructions with his substitute at the foreign office as to what course should be pursued with the papers which are in the foreign office archives.

The moment after the court had been called to order the procurator-general
rose and said: "I am authorized by the government to declare that the documents referred to in yesterday's testimony are only pretended copies of documents, which do not exist."

Maitre Labori: "We consider the incident closed."

Charles Chenn, the lawyer representing the interests of the Figaro and those of Calmette's heirs, then said sarcastically: "I regard the incident as only an enjoyable diversion. It has pleased M. Caillaux to transform a criminal trial into a political one. He intends to go from here with a certificate of loyalty to France. Much good it will do him."

WANTS FEDERAL HELP IN TRACING SISTERS

Atlanta, Ga., July 22.—Marshall Nelms, brother of Miss Beatrice Nelms and Mrs. Eloise Nelms-Dennis, who have been missing from this city since early in June, left here for Washington to appeal to Attorney-General Mc-Reynolds to investigate the disappearance of the sisters.

Nelms asserts he does not believe a letter received there by his mother, Mrs. John W. Nelms, from San Francisco, July 8, was written by Mrs. Dennis. The message was typewritten and indicated Mrs. Dennis had killed her sister and was seeking her brother to kill him also. It is believed Nelms will bring this and other federal phases of the case to the attorney-general's attention.

LAURIER TO VISIT PACIFIC COAST IN EARLY SEPTEMBER

SIR WILFRID LAURIER

Leaves Eastern Provinces at End of August and is Coming Direct to British Columbia.

Montreal, July 22.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's tour of the Maritime provinces will open at Charlottetown on August 25. He will speak at Halifax at the big arena on August 27. He will then speak in New Brunswick, probably at Moncton, and will proceed direct to the Pacific Coast
and returning will visit Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario en route, addressing one meeting in each province.

He will be accompanied by Hon. Geo. P. Graham and F. B.
Carvell.

PRINCE WILLIAM AND PRINCESS ADELGUNDE EXPECTED TO MARRY

Munich, Bavaria, July 22.—The bethothal of Prince William of Hohenzollern, father-in-law of former King Manuel of Portugal, to a daughter of the king of Bavaria, is understood to be imminent. The prince arrived today at Leutstetten, near Munich, on a visit to the Bavarian royal family, and it is believed the official announcement of the engagement will soon be made.

Prince William, who is fifty years old,
is a widower, his first wife having died
in 1909.

The Prince's future bride is said to be Princess Adelgunde, King Ludwig's eldest daughter, who was born October 17, 1870.

NOT CERTAIN THAT HE CAN STOP HORSE RACES

Attorney-General Goes to Vancouver to Start Prosecution of Minoru Club.

Vancouver, July 22.—Hon. W. J.
Bowser, attorney-general, arrived from Victoria this morning and announced that he would immediately cause to be initiated a prosecution against the Minoru Park Racing club, with a view to bringing the race meeting at the Lulu Island track to a close.

It cannot be said that Mr. Bowser is over-sanguine of success in connection with his prosecution. The Miller act, passed by the Canadian parliament a few years ago, has not been regarded by people opposed to race meetings as an impregnable piece of legislation;
there are two decisions by Chief Justice Hunter in favor of the pari-mutuel system.

BELIEVES DEATH REPORT OF HUSBAND IS UNTRUE

Aberdeen, Wash., July 22.—Alleging that her husband is not dead and that an attempt is being made to make her
the victim of a plot for the desertion of herself and two children, Mrs. Lena Gustafson, wife of Ed. Gustafson, has caused a warrant to be sworn out for his arrest. It has been sent to the police of Escanaba, Mich., for service.

RIFLES GIVEN OUT IN BELFAST LAST NIGHT

Toronto, Ont., July 22.—A special cable from Belfast to-day says: "Over four thousand rifles were run into Belfast last night and distributed through the city, together with a large supply of ammunition. Unionists are hopeful of an early dissolution of parliament."

PREMIER ANSWERS ON KING'S SPEECH

House of Commons Informed That Asquith Takes All Responsibility

PALACE CONFERENCE IN SESSION AGAIN TO-DAY

What Area of Ulster Shall Be Excluded and How, is Important Point

TYRONE IS LIKELY TO BE HUB OF DISCUSSION

London, July 22.—Premier Asquith assumed to-day in the House of Commons full responsibility for the speech made by the king yesterday to the political leaders who had met at Buckingham palace to confer on the Irish home rule problem. He thus set at rest various reports in circulation
since the Ulster controversy has become acute, and since the first announcement of the conference. The premier said: "The speech was sent to me in the ordinary way by his majesty the day before it was delivered,
and I take the entire responsibility for it."

"The king left it to the discretion of the conference to determine whether his speech should be published and the conference decided unanimously in favor of its publication. His majesty throughout this matter has followed the strictest constitutional practice. He has not taken any step from the beginning until now except in consultation with and on the advice of his ministers."

Premier Asquith, on being questioned as to the calling of the conference, said with emphasis that all attending are doing so unconditionally.
He declined to discuss why it was being held in Buckingham palace instead of in the House of Commons.

When asked whether there would be an opportunity for discussion of the subject in the house, Premier Asquith answered: "Time will show."

The public interest in the crisis over the Irish home rule question overshadowed everything else to-day in the British Isles. When representatives of the Liberals, Conservatives,
Irish Nationalists and Ulster
Unionists arrived at Buckingham palace this morning to continue their conference with a view to pacifying settlement of the Ulster problem, they found an enormous crowd assembled in the great open space before the gates of the palace. The various statesmen as they passed were respectfully greeted by their sympathizers.

Having disposed of the preliminaries of the conference at yesterday's formal meeting, when King George addressed
the assembled statesmen, the conference arrived to-day prepared to tackle the crux of the problem, the area of Ulster to be excluded from the operation of the Irish home rule bill,
and the means of carrying out this exclusion. Some clearing of the ground had also been effected during informal conferences late yesterday.

The conference were again in session for an hour and a half to-day, and then adjourned until to-morrow.

The claims of the two opposing parties, led by John E. Redmond and Sir Edward Carson, on the critical question of area to be excluded from the operation of home rule, were presented to the conference. As neither the Nationalist or the Ulster Union leader possesses plenipotentiary powers, however, these claims must be submitted to the consideration of their respective party caucuses at each stage so that progress of the conference necessarily must be deliberate.

John Redmond and John Dillon, as they left Buckingham palace and passed along the sidewalk in front of Wellington barracks, received a great reception from the men of the battalion of Irish Guards stationed there.
The soldiers crowded to the windows
cheering wildly and waving their caps.
Openly, of course, the two sides contend that they cannot withdraw from their present positions, but it is understood that Premier Asquith is likely to submit to the conference a proposal to allow the Protestant counties of Ulster
to vote together on the question of exclusion from the home rule parliament,
and that he might so change the time limit of six years embodied in the emending bill.

Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, will make a fight to have the county of Tyrone included in this agreement, and this proposition
will, it is thought, provoke a conflict which will decide the fate of the conference.

STEAMER CANADA FLOATED.

Quebec, Que., July 22.—The Gaspe
line steamer Canada was floated at 5 o'clock this morning with the help of the wrecking tug Lord Strathcona. She is unharmed and is now on her way to

BRYAN TRIES TO KEEP GENERAL VILLA QUIET

United States Officials Ordered to Work for Cohesion of Constitutionalists

Washington, July 22.—The United States, through its consular representatives, appealed yesterday to General Carranza and General Villa in the interest of patriotism and permanent peace in Mexico to bury their personal differences, and work in harmony for the establishment of a new government. Secretary Bryan telegraphed both George C. Crothers and John R. Silliman, representatives of the state department, with General Villa and General Carranza, respectively, urging that they present in a most friendly, yet effective manner the importance of cohesion in the constitutionalist forces. It was a personal appeal from Mr. Bryan, but reflected the apprehension of the Washington government lest a division in the ranks of the constitutionalists should upset the expectations of peace at the very moment when Provisional President Carranza was ready to transfer the government of Mexico City to a new administration of constitutionalists.

While the recent conferences of Carranza and Villa delegates at Torreon agreed upon terms designed to heal the breach between the two leaders, new disquieting reports have come to the effect that Villa was preparing to concentrate his troops in Chihuahua and hold himself aloof from Carranza's authority.

CAILLAUX JURY HEARS FIGARO OFFICE BOYS

Maitre Labori, Eminent Advocate, Thrills Paris Court With Reading

Paris, July 22.—The court was a little late in assembling yesterday and Mme. Caillaux talked over her case with Ferdinand Labori, her advocate, in a private waiting room. After Judge Louis Abanel and his associates had taken their places on the bench, Mme. Caillaux entered the prisoner's enclosure with an air of making herself at home.

Joseph Caillaux, the prisoner's husband, then entered the court and took his place among the witnesses. He was accompanied by two detectives, owing to the fact that a group of bystanders had hooted him and shouted insults at him as he left the prison after visiting his wife. Two office boys from the Figaro were the first witnesses. They described the arrival of Mme. Caillaux at the office of the Figaro on the day of the shooting. They told how she waited and gave details of her entrance to the room occupied by Gaston Calmette and of their hearing shots.

One of the boys, Adrien Nicot, crouched down on the witness stand and uttered a series of low cries, showing how he had found Calmette, who was sheltering himself behind his desk.

Paul Bourget, the "immortal" with Calmette in his office when Mme. Caillaux's card was brought in, then told of the incident.

"You will not see her," Bourget said he remarked to Calmette.

"I cannot refuse to receive a woman," he replied, Bourget said.

Maitre Labori then thrilled the overcrowded courtroom by reading a dialogue from Bourget's novel "The Demon and The Midl," in which the characters discussed and condemned the publication of the heroine's love letters. Coming immediately after Bourget's eulogy of Gaston Calmette, with which he had closed his testimony the reading of the dialogue by Maitre Labori was regarded as a master stroke. Maitre Labori's voice was musical and full of dramatic feeling when he had concluded. Paul Bourget remarked: "Literature is not life."

He agreed, however, that private letters ought not to be published, and said he did not believe Calmette had intended to publish the Caillaux letters.

The most important testimony given was the testimony of President Poincaré whose deposition was taken by Judge Emile Fauriol, the first president of the court of appeals.

This narrated how Joseph Caillaux, then a minister of state, had called on President Poincaré on the day Calmette was killed and had spoken about the probable publication in Figaro of letters between himself and Mme. Caillaux. In the course of an excited talk, M. Caillaux, according to the deposition, exclaimed: "If Calmette publishes the letters, I will kill him."

Joseph Caillaux also took the stand. He appeared young to have been premier of France and chief of the important Radical party. After relating incidents of his private life after his marriage with Mme. Gueydan, he explained the circumstances of the writing of the two letters: to Mme. Raymond, who afterward became Mme. Caillaux. His voice trembled and he was obviously ill at ease, but he gathered composure as he proceeded.

GRAFT SHOWN AGAINST HON. H. F. McLEOD, M.P.

Contractor Tells of Paying $1,500 on Contract Where Price Was Raised to Suit

St. John, N. B., July 22.—The St. John Valley Railway inquiry yesterday was a lively one. A speech by Hon. H. F. McLeod, former provincial secretary, was one of the stirring incidents of the inquiry. Mr. McLeod, who is now a member of the House of Commons, is charged with having forced John Scott to pay $1,500 before he could secure his contract. John Scott had been called to the stand and was proceeding to tell how he came to seek a sub-contract on the railway. T. J. Carter, K. C., rose to object that the line of inquiry was outside the scope of the commission. Suddenly Mr. McLeod stood aggressively before the commission. "If these charges mean anything," he said, "it is that I compelled this man Scott to pay $1,500 before he could get his contract. That is the only base on which you can approach that charge. This man had no contract with the government. The government dealt alone with the St. John Railway company."

"What about the paying of the money?" asked Mr. Carvell.

Shaking his fist at Mr. Carvell, McLeod addressed him with some heat which prompted the commissioners to appeal for order.

"I will teach him to keep his place," said Mr. McLeod as he returned to his argument. He maintained that if a sub-contractor was to be investigated, that logically the investigation should proceed down the line to the Swede or Italian holding the little half-mile job on the road.

Scott told the commissioners that he had paid to Hon. Mr. McLeod, $1,500 in consideration of securing the railway contract. The money, he said, was drawn from the Royal Bank at Woodstock and sent by express to Major Massey, since dead. The express receipt was submitted in evidence.

Mr. Scott declared that Mr. McLeod had suggested a consideration of $100 per mile for getting him a section of the work, amounting to thirteen and a fraction miles, near Woodstock. He had estimated that this work would call for the removal of 300,000 yards of material and that it was good work. Returning to Fredericton, he and his partner saw Mr. McLeod, who said no one could get a contract without his consent, and he would try to get 27 cents instead of 26 cents on three hundred thousand yards which would mean an extra $3,000. He suggested, said Mr. Scott, that they split this money, fifteen hundred dollars each. On Wednesday, June 5, a memorandum of agreement was signed at 27 cents for common material, said Mr. Scott. He told Mr. McLeod that when he got it straightened out he would pay the money. Mr. McLeod suggested that he see Major Massey of the Bank of Montreal, and tell him he was sending $1,500 by express. "I told him to hand the money over to Mr. McLeod," said Scott, and I presume he did.

Later Mr. Scott said he saw Mr. McLeod, who stated he had received the money and that it had come in good time as bills were coming in from the recent election.

Edmonton Police Are Hit Hard in Report

Many Wanted to Testify Left City Before Inquiry Was Commenced.

Edmonton, Alta., July 22.—The report of the police investigation, was submitted to the city council last night. It is a strong arraignment of the police administration, and describes the general conditions revealed by the investigation as of the most serious possible character.

His lordship suggested that as a good deal of evidence that had been given was inconclusive, and as many of the witnesses hurriedly left the city before the inquiry opened, in a way that led to the suggestion that they were got out of the way, the report be treated as an interim one, and that the authority conferred by the council for the inquiry be extended, also that a tribunal be established if any further evidence comes to light. The council deferred discussing the matter for a week so as to enable the aldermen to properly digest the report.

WHAT THIN FOLKS SHOULD DO TO GAIN WEIGHT

Physician's Advice for Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered regenerative force makes fat grow after years of thinness, and is also unequalled for repairing the waste of sickness or fat-producing elements by strengthening the nerves. This remarkable discovery is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing elements by Sargol, which have been combined in this perfect preparation, which is endorsed by eminent physicians and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A month's systematic use of Sargol should produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying highly concentrated fats to the blood. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional facts that thin people need are provided. D. E. Campbell, Prescription Store, Victoria, B. C., and other leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitality, it should not be used by nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.

STRIPPED AND BEATEN
FOR INSULTING GIRLS

St. Lambert Residents Much Excited
Over Punishment Police Know Nothing About.

Montreal, July 22.—St. Lambert is very much excited over the flogging of George Becker, notorman of the Southern & Counties railway by a vigilance committee of about forty men of that town last night. Five St. Lambert girls, aged from 5 to 8 years, had been insulted by Becker, it is claimed,
and the beating was in punishment for this.

It occurred in a quiet field, to which Becker had been conducted, and there he was gagged, stripped of his clothing and badly beaten. The police of St. Lambert professed ignorance of the assault. It is said that Becker has

TO CLEAN OUT VICE
DISTRICT OF CHICAGO

Man in Gray Sent From New York to Kill Inspector of Morals

Chicago, July 22.—Police circles are stirred by the declaration that Rocco Venille, said to be the man in gray accused of starting the shooting which led to the death of Detective Stanley J.
Birns and the wounding of five others
last Thursday night in the levee district, was a New York gunman who had been sent west after the electronic of the murderers of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

State's Attorney Hoyne was the author of the statement linking Venille,
who is now in a Chicago hospital suffering from a wound in his foot with the New York East Side gang of gunmen. In addition Mr. Hoyne asserted that he had evidence that Venille was sent to Chicago to aid in a plot to put
W. C. Dannenberg, inspector of morals in Chicago, and the men on his staff,
out of the way so that the vice districts in Chicago would not be interfered with.

Eight years ago, according to the information obtained by the state's attorney, Venille, who is a cousin of John Torrio, business manager for James Colosimo, levee district cafe owner,
shot and killed a man in Billings, Montana. The victim, the state's attorney said, was named Bastistick. Ve-nille fled to Butte, was arrested, tried and sentenced for fifty years. After serving less than eight years he was released.

A cleaning out such as the old levee
district has never known is promised for Twenty-second street and its environments with the advent of Captain Max Nothbar, as the commanding police officer in the district in the place of Captain Ryan, transferred.

"I will clean out the district in thirty days, and may be quicker than that,"
said Captain Nothbar as he took up his work today. The chief's orders are to drive them out, and I'm going to keep them moving till the district is clean."

AUSTRALIAN EIGHT IS KOLAPORE CUP-WINNER

Canada Was Beaten by Two Points; England Six Points Short

Brisley Camp, Eng., July 22.—Making a total aggregate for the three ranges of 776, the eight marksmen representing Australia yesterday carried off the Kolarapore challenge cup, which has been shot for annually since 1871 by teams of the empire. The shooting competitions of seven shots each at three, five and six hundred yards. Previous to this victory of the Australians, the Mother Country eight has won this trophy four years in succession, but they could only make third place this year, with the Canadians in second place, two points behind the Australians.

The match was finished under exciting conditions. "Canada was among the three leading competitors finished first, and when the Mother Country closed down a minute later Canada was four points ahead. The Australians, however, who shoot slowly, had several shots to go, and managed to pass the Canadians by two points. The Australians have won the Kolarapore trophy previously in 1902 and 1903. This year's winning aggregate is four points
below the Mother Country's aggregate of last year, namely, 790, the record being 799, which the Mother Country
made in 1910.

Reservist Cross scored the highest individual Australian aggregate, making 99 at the three ranges, the possible being 105.

The following are the aggregates of the units at three ranges:

Explosion in Moving Picture Theatre
Also Threatened Danger to

Goldendale, Wash., July 22.—About one-half of the business section of Centreville, eight miles west of Goldendale,
was burned by a fire started in a moving picture show Sunday night through an explosion. Centreville has no fire protection and Goldendale responded to a call with 100 men, who went to the burning town in automobiles.

Centreville is situated in the middle of the rich Swale section of the Kiktat valley, and the fields of standing grain, ripe and dry as powder, were in great danger for a while, but the fire was prevented from reaching any of the wheat fields by hard work. A fa-from being destroyed. The fire loss is estimated at $16,700 with $8,000 insur-

CONDEMNS DUAL PLAN TO CONTROL ISLANDS

Passenger on R. M. S. Niagara Deals With Effects of Condominium on New Hebrides

Among the visitors in the city today is Edward Jacoby, who comes from Vila, in the New Hebrides, Australia. He is on his way to England.
Mr. Jacoby, who is a barrister-at-law, and has been a resident of the New Hebrides for seven years, is the author of the recently-published book on "France and England in the New Hebrides," which is strongly condemnatory of the condominium.

"I am pleased," he said in an interview, "to hear that an Anglo-French commission has been appointed to inquire into the working of the condominium; because it marks a step in advance, although my own opinion is that there is really no need, as far as the colonial office is concerned, to make an inquiry at all. The home government knows all the facts, and has known them for years. They know that the allegations of the missionaries are true. At a meeting of the Aborigines Protection Society in London a little while ago, Admiral King Hall stated that what the missionaries had alleged was perfectly correct, and so it is.

"The condominium never has worked satisfactorily, and never can. Under certain ideal circumstances such an arrangement might have been possible,
but you must not look for idealism in the southern seas. The longer the condominium goes on the worse it gets.
Everyone is tired of it, and agreed that a common sense government is wanted.

"What do I propose? That the group should become British, or that the Commonwealth should take it over. It depends, of course, on who has the greater interest in the islands, and I should think the Commonwealth has.
The geographical position of the group
and of New Caledonia as well, surrounds it within the circle of Australian interests. I am told that a section of politicians hold the view that it would be inadvisable for the Commonwealth
to acquire the New Hebrides, or to ever acquire New Caledonia, for the reason that it is considered by them to be advantageous to have France well represented in the Pacific as well as the other white nations. In order that help might be forthcoming from those quarters in the event of some day of a struggle with the yellow races for the mastery of the Pacific. Whether the group is to be governed by the colonial office or by the Commonwealth is, however, a minor point compared with the main objective. In either case it would be British, and that would be a great achievement. The present state of affairs is wholly creditable from whatever point of view it is regarded.

"It seems to me that our imperial interests are greater than the French.

RINGWORM ALL OVER GIRL'S FACE

Hands and Arms. Burning and Painful. Suffered Day and Night from Itching. Cured by Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

St. Veronique, Que.—"My little girl got ringworm all over the face, hands, and arms. It was given a sort of white ointment and like a phial of water to wash with. After eight days of this treatment
the ringworms instead of healing became dark red and were spreading, then were burning and painful. The child suffered day and night from the great itching. I was very disturbed.

THE KING'S SPEECH.

The king's eloquent plea to the political chieftains for the settlement of the home rule question in a spirit of generous compromise and conciliation undoubtedly has the sympathy of the empire at large. Although the calling of the conference by royal command has provoked considerable criticism in quarters properly sensitive in all matters appertaining to the prerogatives of parliament, much of that criticism is disarmed by the character of the monarch's address, which expresses nothing but goodwill in impartial measure for the conflicting interests and the fervent hope that there may be peace with honor for all. In these aspirations home rulers and anti-home rulers heartily can join without any recalcitancy to their causes. His Majesty's appeal is directed no less strongly to Carson than it is to Redmond.

It is recognized on all sides that Ireland must have home rule. The outstanding difficulty is the nature and extent of Ulster's exclusion from the terms of the bill which has reached practically the end of its thorny route. Sir Edward Carson demands the absolute exclusion of the province. The Asquith government has embodied in an amending bill an offer of exclusion for six years to those counties of Ulster which by a majority of votes declare their objection to coming under the jurisdiction of an Irish parliament. Aside from the question of time limit, the government's reason for requiring a vote by counties strikes the onlooker as fair and sound. In five of those counties home rule predominates. Ulster sends to the Imperial Parliament more Nationalists than Unionists, although throughout the province the home rulers are in the minority, representing perhaps two-fifths of the total population.

What about the large proportion of Ulster people who desire to be governed by an Irish parliament? Why should Sir Edward Carson withhold from them the justice he claims on behalf of the Ulster opponents of home rule? Some of the Ulster counties are overwhelmingly in favor of home rule. Are they to be excluded from the proposed system merely because the majority in other counties are opposed to it? Sir Edward Carson's demand for the exclusion of the entire province regardless of every consideration of reason and fair play will not commend itself to the people of the United Kingdom. He will have to make some concession in the case of counties where home rule sentiment is dominant. On the other hand the government probably will have to cut out its time limit and permit the counties with large anti-home rule majorities to exclude themselves as long as they desire. There should be give and take on both sides.

In spite of the declarations of the Ulster opponents of home rule, we believe the time would not be very distant when they would demand to be included in an Irish parliamentary system. While the new dominion would suffer from the loss of the wealthy, industrial section which centres about Belfast, that district would lose considerable from its administrative dislocation from the rest of the country. Part of the business, financial and industrial monopoly which Belfast now enjoys would go to Dublin. The benefits which the history of the Empire in every case has shown to follow the establishment of self-government would redound to the progress and prosperity of the country subject to the Irish parliament, and we are strongly of the opinion that the shrewd, hard-headed and aggressive people of Ulster eventually would want to share them.

aspect of the tactics employed by the Marquis of Lansdowne and Bonar Law. If the conference now in progress is to end in a peaceful solution of the trouble those champions of the restoration of an effete system must make comprehensive concessions. For their object is not the welfare of the people of Ireland but the restoration of the veto of the House of Lords and the blocking of all legislation aimed at domestic reform. They are fighting for a reversion to the conditions which prompted an eminent Tory politician to say that "no matter whom the people of England elect to office the Tories always will be the actual rulers of the country."

TOUR OF THE LEADERS.

We are told it is a mean thing for Sir Wilfrid Laurier to tour the west ahead of Sir Robert Borden. As a matter of fact, it is not at all likely that in arranging his itinerary the leader of the opposition was influenced in the slightest degree by the determination of the leader of the government. Indeed, we do not see how he could have been, because the vacillations and uncertainties of Sir Robert are so notorious that no one would think of governing his actions by anything he might propose to do. Even yet the melancholy pilgrimage of Sir Robert is by no means a certainty. He is liable to change his mind again, as he has changed it many times since the fact first was announced that he would make a political tour of the west. But, suppose Sir Robert has made up his mind and that his mind is strong enough to adhere to its determination, what disadvantage will be under in following Sir Wilfrid Laurier? We always have understood that the party having the last word in a debate has the advantage—and this is the accepted view. At public meetings he is considered an astute and shrewd man who so manoeuvres as to have the last word. Consequently, if Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his friends waited until Sir Robert Borden and his friends announced their itinerary, we might just as reasonably assume that in arranging to cover the ground first they thereby indicated their contempt for the influence of Premier Borden upon public opinion.

The colonist thinks that when Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. G. P. Graham arrive in the west there are two matters which they might explain. One is the alleged over-expenditure of forty million dollars upon the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and the other why this part of Canada was not treated more generously in the matter of expenditures. But no one seriously has alleged that there was an over-expenditure of forty million dollars on the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Even the Gutelius-Staunton report, ridiculed and discredited until every Tory in the country except the Colonist would be glad to forget it, did not say that. It alleged that forty million dollars might have been saved had momentum grades generally been adopted, had wooden bridges been substituted for steel trestles, had cheaper and smaller stations and round houses been constructed and the calibre of the road been third-class instead of first-class. But our contemporary seems to forget, although the fact was published in its own columns, that the commissioner appointed by the Borden government to complete the construction of the railway after that government attained power has been discharged from his office because he built a part of the line with momentum grades, etc., that the work he did in accordance with the ideas of Gutelius and Staunton is being undone, and that generally all the road is to be raised to the standard originally planned. So that neither Sir Wilfrid Laurier nor Hon. G. P. Graham has anything to explain in connection with the construction of the G. T. P. As a matter of fact, Sir Robert Borden will have to do the explaining.

As to the allegation that this part of the country was shabbily treated in the matter of public expenditures, we think possibly the ex-ministers will be able to show that Victoria was, in a comparative sense, not so badly used. If the Laurier government had been in power the breakwater would have been as far advanced in construction as it is now; the building of a drydock at Esquimalt would have been under way; there would have been ships for the projected Canadian navy completed and under construction at Esquimalt; and with all the expenditures of which we hear so much and so frequently, what are the business conditions in the city to-day compared with the circumstances when the Laurier government was in power?

The Liberal leaders will have no difficulty in answering any questions that may be asked them in respect of such things, and they will be received with greater enthusiasm than ever has been manifested on this coast, just because of the marked contrast between present conditions and the abounding prosperity that prevailed during their term of office.

VICTORIOUS AUSTRALIANS.

Our cousins in the Antipodes, as we have had occasion to remark, are an assertive people. They can play any kind of game and beat almost anybody at it. They are very nearly supreme at whatever they set their minds and their hands to. They play tennis and cricket exceptionally well; they can row boats and run races with the strongest and fleetest. They are keen of eye and steady of nerve; and generally there are no limits to their ambitions. They have beaten the pick of the empire in rifle shooting, carrying off the Kolapore Cup in the competitions at Bisley yesterday. We congratulate the Australians on their notable achievement, at the same time consoling ourselves with the reflection that the Canadians were only a couple of points behind them, beating also by a very small margin, the pick of the riflemen representing the Mother Country. There is further consolation for us, although fairly beaten, in the fact that two of the Canadian shooters excelled all others in their total scores, gaining the highest marks of the day. It was the team work that gained the prize for the Australians, as combination and co-operation generally do in the games and the battles of life. Yet sometimes we are told that those assertive, self-confident, prudent and resourceful Australians cannot do certain things for themselves. For instance, that they are presumptuous in assuming that they are competent to protect and safeguard their own country; that they are exhibiting the folly of youth and immaturity in presuming that they can build and man ships of war for the defence of their own shores! Doubtless the people of Australia, like the majority of the people of Canada, are willing to concede that they have much to learn, particularly in the industrial arts, but they are not ready to admit that what others have done in those fields they cannot learn to do, and do just as well, and possibly a little better in due time, than any other people on the face of the globe. They will not for a moment admit inferiority—and we are with them in their position! Australians and Canadians are resourceful and adaptable, and they acknowledge no superiors.

THE KOMAGATA.

We join with the morning paper in absolving Sir Richard McBride from any responsibility for the blundering which has characterized the course of the federal authorities in regard to the Komagata Maru. The Premier has kept himself clear of the middle, not so much because it would have been a piece of impertinence for the provincial authorities to have interfered, but because such interference might have injured either his friends at Ottawa or himself, or perhaps both, in a political sense. Were a Liberal government in power at Ottawa the consideration of impertinence would not have held him mute. He would have hurled denunciations at the administration from the platform and through the ever-accommodating columns of the morning paper. That was what he did from 1904 to 1911, during which there was not one-quarter the excuse for his interference that there has been in the case of the Komagata Maru. While the Ottawa Citizen's article, to which the morning paper takes exception, was inaccurate in associating Sir Richard McBride with the dancing dervish activities of Mr. Stevens, it is not an unnatural error in the light of the Premier's general record on the subject of Oriental immigration.

In every other respect the Citizen's stinging strictures are quite within the mark. The case of the Komagata Maru has been bungled from the beginning. She never should have been allowed to leave Hongkong in the first place. The governor there held her for ten days while he sought advice from the Ottawa authorities, who ignored his cabled communication. Yesterday's proceedings, with their comic opera surroundings, constituted the crowning absurdity in a situation which has made this country an object of ridicule in the eyes of the world. Imagine the spectacle! On the Komagata Maru were three hundred odd East Indians, whose entire armament only boasted one gun. A short distance away was the Rainbow, manned with bluejackets and soldiers from Work Point, her heavy guns and Maxims frowning on the chartered vessel. On shore stood detachments from the Vancouver militia forces to the number of two hundred, with special police, all ready for—heaven and Mr. Stevens only know what. And then, we are told, all preparations were made for the army, the navy and the special police to shoot if Gurdi Singh's band of recalcitrants did not "surrender."

We are informed this morning picture episode did the trick. The East Indians are prepared to go home if the authorities will provision their ship. Yes, and they would have been willing to go home on that condition without the martial frills of yesterday or the seahilly, buccaneer raid of Saturday night. If it is necessary to invoke the assistance of a cruiser and several hundred soldiers, to say nothing of a battalion of special police, to induce the rejected immigrants of one chartered steamer to return home, how many ships and soldiers would be required to deal with two or three boatloads in similar circumstances? We wonder what the reflections of the loyal native soldiery of India will be when they read of the measures adopted in Vancouver harbor yesterday against their countrymen, many of whom have served under the King's colors. The Ottawa Citizen was right. It is a pity this matter was handled by a few politicians with a mania for the limelight.

The late J. P. Morgan admittedly was an extraordinary man. He accumulated many millions of dollars. He stood before kings and hobnobbed with ecclesiastical dignitaries. He contributed lavishly to churches and charitable institutions. In his last will and testament he announced: "I commit my soul into the hands of my Saviour in full confidence that, having redeemed it and washed it in His most precious blood, He will present it faultless before the throne of my Heavenly Father, and I entreat my children to maintain and defend at all hazard and at any cost of personal sacrifice, the blessed doctrine of the complete atonement for sin through the blood of Jesus Christ once offered and through that alone." Yet Pierpont Morgan, collaborating in a financial way with another eminently pious man who while sure of his reward has not gone to it, wrecked the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway, the securities of which at one time were among the best in the United States, and brought ruin and desolation to hundreds of people who had invested their all in the system. Verily, the ways and the manners of men are past finding out.

Last year, the federal government spent so much that it had to increase the public debt by $21,000,000. This year, according to the estimates and the condition of the revenue, the debt will be increased by a much greater sum. Yet in spite of these soaring expenditures the country has not been harder up for thirty years. Immigration has fallen off, land settlement is declining and the government is about to order the deportation of thousands of unemployed in the large eastern cities who have been in Canada not more than three years. On top of all this the cost of living continues at the highest notch. Is it any wonder that the Canadian people are dissatisfied with the present regime? Give us Laurier and good times.

Berry, the man who carried the bag for the Flemming government of New Brunswick, is an exile from the country and will not come back, although his testimony is desired by the commission which is investigating the relations of the government with lumber companies and a railway company. Premier Flemming admits that he has had communication with Berry since he fled, and there is little doubt that a word from Flemming would bring Berry back. But the premier will not write the word. In that fact alone the New Brunswick government must stand condemned in the judgment of the people.

Congratulations to the Niagara. She has more than justified the many good things said about her when Victoria welcomed her on her maiden voyage across the Pacific. May she hang up more records and thereby lessen the gap which separates the two great British dominions.

The Canadians lost the Kolapore Cup through the inadvertence of an absent-minded beggar. Individually and in the aggregate they proved themselves the superior marksmen, however.

The East Indians aboard the Komagata Maru might have demanded one more concession—to take with them Brother Stevens as a souvenir of a very interesting occasion.

Centennial Board.—The office board of the Centennial Methodist church will hold its quarterly meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the church parlors.

Victoria Girl Passed.—The McGill University matriculation examination lists omitted the name of Miss Kathryn R. Bradshaw, of Victoria, a pupil of St. George's school.

Centennial Trustees.—The trustee board of the Centennial Methodist church will meet on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Sunday school room of the church.

Fowl Bay Cathedral Branch.—The Women's Guild of the new Fowl Bay branch of Christ Church cathedral will meet to-morrow at 2:30 at the residence of Mrs. Clowes, 248 Wildwood avenue. Interested ladies are asked to attend.

Pays Half-Yearly Interest.—City Treasurer Smith yesterday paid a sum of $156,350 for interest charges on bonded indebtedness for local improvement and general purposes of civic loans. The payments are now made half-yearly on July 21 and January 21.

New Official Arrives.—W. Newton, a graduate of Macdonald college, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, has been attached to the B. C. Agricultural department as assistant crop commissioner to J. C. Readey. Mr. Newton has until recently been in the Quebec department.

Awarded $3,600.—R. N. Fergusson has been awarded $3,600 by the board of arbitration for the quarter of an acre of land taken by the Canadian Northern for its right of way approaching Portage Inlet. Judge Barker was chairman of the board of arbitrators.

Spoke on Dairying.—The teachers attending the summer course at the high school yesterday enjoyed a lecture by H. Rive, dairy instructor of the department of agriculture, who spoke on general dairying. Next week Mr. Rive will speak on milk testing, and on Friday will explain the Babcock and Sediment tests with the assistance of T. A. F. Wanicko.

Preparing for Hunting Season.—Chief Game Warden A. Bryan Williams was over from the mainland yesterday to confer with the attorney-general regarding the regulations for the coming hunting season. He submitted reports from the deputy wardens as to the approximate amount of game in the woods, and discussed the dates to be fixed for the open seasons.

Portrait Added to Gallery.—The collection of portraits in the gallery at the legislative buildings was yesterday added to by an oil painting of the late Roderick Finlayson, the eminent pioneer and Hudson's Bay company official, the painting being the work of the well known British artist, Haddon. On behalf of J. C. Keith and Mrs. Keith, of Vancouver, who presented the portrait, R. E. Gosnell hung the picture.

Crops in Okanagan.—J. C. Readey, the government crop commissioner, has returned from a tour of the Okanagan and Boundary districts where the crops are in general very promising, especially around Grand Forks. Oats were short in the Okanagan because of the drought, but alfalfa was good. In Rock Creek and Brideswell districts the hay and wheat crop were not as good as they might have been.

Protection of Salmon.—Interference by Indians with the salmon trying to reach the spawning grounds of the Fraser and its tributaries has led to the prohibition by the federal department of marine and fisheries, of all salmon fishing in the Fraser, between Hope and Lytton, and also in the Coquihalla river, in order to give the fish time to get to the upper reaches. The Indians have lately been going to the narrows at Hell Gate, near North Bend, with pack trains and catching the fish in large numbers. The prohibition will be raised in ample time to allow them to secure their winter supply of food.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, July 22, 1889.

Mr. B. Wilson, manager of the Bank of Hamilton, and president of the board of trade in Winnipeg, Ont., with the venerable father, Crowell Wilson, ex-M. P., are registered at the Driford, and with their old friend of many years, J. Montague Leet, are visiting different pieces of interest in and about the city.

The water mains at the corner of Quadra and Cormorant streets broke on Sunday morning, flooding several streets.

The Nebraska journalists arrived on the North Pacific on Saturday evening and put up at the Oriental and Clarence hotels. The drydock, H. M. S. Champion, and the city park were visited on Sunday afternoon, the local pressmen supplying carriages for the party.

A diamond drill apparatus which has been operating at Oyster Bay was brought to the city yesterday by the tug Daisy.

Point Ellice bridge was discovered to be on fire yesterday, and but for the timely arrival of Messrs. Russell and Bishop serious damage would have been done.

Two Ladies' Coats left by lady in The Victoria Leather Goods store.

The Summer Price at the Crystal theatre is only 5 cents. Good pictures, good music. Amateurs on Wednesday eve.

Bank Clearings.—The total bank clearings for the week ending July 21 amounted to $2,667,562.

Social Evening.—The Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran church will hold its social evening to-night. A good attendance is hoped for and the committee are trying to make the evening an enjoyable one.

Elks Meet.—Owing to the fact that a large number of Victoria Elks visited Seattle last Thursday, a meeting has been called for Thursday next, and it is expected that a large number of great importance is to be transacted.

C. E. Social.—There will be a social at Dixon grounds, Esquimalt road, at 7:45 this evening, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria West. All will be welcome.

Dr. Young to Officiate.—Michael Manson, M. P., was in the city yesterday from Comox and arranged to have the Hon. Dr. Young attend the Comox Conservative association picnic on August 4 and also to officiate at the formal opening of the new hospital in the district at the same time.

Trades and Labor Council.—The Victoria Trades and Labor council will receive a report at the meeting this evening from their delegates to the B. C. Federation of Labor convention last week, and also hear Vice-President Fred Bancroft, of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, who is now on the coast.

Prepare to Entertain Duke.—The Victoria Club, under the patronage of the Duke of Connaught on August 21, will be held in the ballroom instead of the dining-room of the Empress hotel in order to provide for the expected full attendance of members. The price of the tickets will be the same as usual and only members will be admitted.

The Summers Fund.—Dean Doull has called a meeting of parties interested in the Summers fund at Christ Church cathedral on Friday next at 8 p. m., to consider the best method of dispensing the moneys collected. All collections in the meantime can be turned over to either the Times or the Colonist, and the fund can be closed before the meeting. The contributions have been generous, and it is due to the donors that the fund be disposed of to bring the very best results. This will be done by the meeting convened by Dean Doull.

House for Lieutenant-Governor.—On July 14 Oak Bay issued a building permit to His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor T. W. Patterson, for a 12-room house costing $25,000, to be erected on lot 6, block 10, section 31, map 1215 A, Suffolk. The property is in the Uplands park, and the building is to be of wood, plaster and shingles, two-and-a-half stories in height, with 8-foot basement, ground floor 10 feet in height, and the first floor 9 feet in height. In addition to the dwelling there will be a garage, and the new structure, which is already in course of building, promises to be one of the handsomest of the Uplands Park residences. The architect is H. F. Griffiths, the contractor, P. McKechnie.

"MICHAEL EARLES' DAY"

Personal Friends of Founder of Sol Duc Hotel Will Pay Tribute to His Worth.

To celebrate "Michael Earles' day," a special excursion will be run from Victoria to Sol Duc on Friday next.

The steamer Sol Duc will leave at 1 p. m., the fare for the round trip being $6; tickets good returning any time within ten days.

To Mr. Earles alone belongs the credit of planning and constructing what is now conceded to be one of the finest health resorts in America. In the vast undertaking the founder spent well over half a million dollars, and surmounted seemingly insuperable physical obstacles by unwavering determination. The road he built through the primeval forest from the shores of the lake to the springs, is one of the most scenic in the world.

In order to pay some tribute to his merits, and to make public their appreciation of his beneficence to his state, a number of personal friends of Mr. Earles have arranged a special programme of entertainment for Sunday, July 26, and the week following. Sunday will be known as "Michael Earles' Day."

Building Permit.—A building permit has been issued to D. McIntosh for a house on Moss street costing $3,000. H. F. McKinnell will be the contractor.

Fifth Regiment Band.—The Fifth Regiment band will play at Central park this evening at 7 o'clock. A very attractive programme of music has been arranged, and a good audience is looked for.

City School Board.—At the meeting of the city school board to-morrow afternoon tenders will be opened for the supply of fuel for the schools. Several other subjects have to receive attention.

Fined for Speeding.—J. W. Grice pleaded guilty to-day to running his motor car at an excessive speed at the corner of Douglas and Courtney streets on Thursday afternoon last, and was fined $20.

Dr. Barker's Exercises.—The third session of classes being conducted at the Y. M. C. A. under the plan suggested by Dr. Barker will open this evening at 8 o'clock. The classes are proving highly popular, and last Wednesday and Monday about 23 members attended. Applicants should send their names to the Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Motor Collision.—With reference to the collision in which Mayor Stewart and City Controller Baymer were involved yesterday at the corner of Douglas and Fisgard streets, A. W. Watson, the driver of the other car, points out that his car was run into by the city car, and not vice versa as was stated.

Conducted Prayer Meeting.—The Epworth League of the Centennial Methodist church took charge of the prayer meeting services held last night at the Strangers' rest, Miss McKeown being in charge, and the address being given by Mr. Hadlow. There was an unusually large attendance, and a splendid testimonial meeting took place at the close of the opening proceedings. This evening there will be an out-door meeting on Pandora street, conducted by Mr. Richardson.

Manual Arts Course.—One of the most interesting—from the lay point of view—of the courses being given in connection with the summer school is the manual arts training, in charge of W. B. Binns, supervisor of manual training in the Victoria schools. The class is a large one, and among the articles made in paper, clay, cardboard and wood, are maps, fruit, Indian wigwags, canoes, tables and chairs and other household articles, boxes, letter-files, etc. The training teaches the eye and hand as well as the mathematical sense.

The World Would Miss the Columbia

Yes, if the world were to be deprived to-day—this instant—of all the Columbia instruments and Columbia records that have brought cheer and joy and happiness to hundreds of thousands of people everywhere these past years, HOW TERRIBLE WOULD BE MISSED!

And yet YOU, reader, have not yet learned what good fun the Columbia is.

The Columbia is ALWAYS equal to the occasion; it is never shy; it never has a cold; it is never out of sorts; it is never too tired to sing or play or talk; it is EVER READY to amuse you and your friends.

Home or Camp

Take it with you on your holiday excursions; make it "one of the bunch" in camp; have it with you always at home. It will never fail you.

The Columbia is made in a wide variety of styles, sizes and types, at divergent prices that will suit practically every pocket. And we sell it on terms that can be made so easy as to cause no inconvenience whatsoever. You should call and hear the Columbia this week.

When you buy records, no matter what make of disc-playing instrument you use, make sure that the "twin note" trade mark is on them. This indicates Columbia quality and accuracy, and gives you two records in one. We have the largest and most up-to-date stock of records in Western Canada. No matter what you want, you will find it here. Try us.

Further Remand.—A further remand for a week was granted to-day in the case of Charlie Bo and J. M. Chow, the commission to take evidence in China not yet being returned.

Tenders for Fire Hose.—In fulfillment of the proposal to organize a volunteer fire department in Esquimalt, tenders are invited by the municipal council for 1,200 feet of two and one-half inch cotton rubber-lined fire hose, with couplings and expansion rings, to be in by July 27. Only local firms may tender.

Motor Collision.—With reference to the collision in which Mayor Stewart and City Controller Baymer were involved yesterday at the corner of Douglas and Fisgard streets, A. W. Watson, the driver of the other car, points out that his car was run into by the city car, and not vice versa as was stated.

Charge is Dismissed.—When the case of alleged breach of motor traffic regulations laid against the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company came before the police magistrate to-day the evidence of O. B. Eller showed clearly that there was no offence. Mr. Amberg, superintendent of the company, had stopped his car suddenly on signal from a hotel bus driver, and as it was running on the centre of Government street he was not guilty of any offence. E. V. Bodwell, K. C., for the defendant company, on the dismissal of the charge, asked if costs should not be allowed, but this could not be allowed.

BAD STORM MIXES UP SHIPS AT NEWCASTLE

Barque Springbank Goes Ashore in Australia; Schooner Mahukona in Trouble

When a howling S. S. E. gale broke over the port of Newcastle, N. S. W., on Wednesday, June 24, nine sailing vessels, several of which are well-known here, broke adrift from their anchorage and were either driven ashore or collided with one another and worked their spurs and running gear into a terrible tangle. The fierce storm occurred five days before the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara, in port yesterday, sailed from Sydney, and arrived here by the ship tell of the time the sailing vessels experienced. The gale reached a velocity of 65 miles an hour, while occasional squalls blew as hard as 80 and 90 miles an hour.

It was during the early part of the gale that the vessels broke away from their moorings. The barque Erminia and Springbank, which came to the Royal Roads about two years ago and was in the great ocean race to the United Kingdom, were among the first to drift away. The latter had her mizzen-mast broken. Both vessels lost their anchors, and went ashore well to the north of the harbor.

The German barque Susanne Vinnen and the French barque Due D'Aumale both went ashore on Walsh Island. They have a slight list, but their anchors are holding well. They signaled for tugs, but all the tugs in the port were engaged doing work for other vessels which had broken adrift.

Schooner Causes Trouble. The American four-masted schooner Mahukona, which loaded a cargo of lumber at Vancouver a short time ago, had an experience worse than any other vessel in the port. She was lying abreast of two sailing vessels when she broke away. She drifted right against the bows of the Guisepina, Karmo and Kirkcubrightshire, which took out a cargo of lumber from Puget Sound to Sydney. Her anchors were thrown out, and she remained in that position, with her bow facing the north-east, and her port side bumping against the bows of the other three vessels. The rigging on the Karmo and Kirkcubrightshire was tangled, and caught with the rigging of the Mahukona. The top gallant mast of the Karmo was broken. A hawser had cut through the iron round the hawser pipe. A dolphin near where the Mahukona was berthed had given away, and was lying almost submerged.

As the Mahukona was more in need of assistance than any other vessel, two tugs, the Irresistible and the Bunkaree, went out with a pilot on board to free the schooner, and endeavor to tow her to a wharf. The wind was blowing at a terrific rate, and was roaring through the masts and rigging of the dozen or so sailing vessels berthed near by. The schooner's anchor, which had assisted her in keeping her position, was hauled aboard. The captain then commenced to unfasten and cut away the shrouds and rigging leading from the port side to the after main and mizzen masts, and the ropes on the starboard side, leading to the mizzen mast. Everything was at last ready for the tugs. The vessel was backed successfully out of her difficult position without incurring any further damage. She was then turned round in order to enable her to be towed out towards the wharf.

Then commenced the most difficult part of the work. The Irresistible was towing the vessel towards the south, and, as she slowed round to the south-east, she was caught side on by the waves and sea. She struggled for some time to reach her position, but without success. Then the Bunkaree went ahead with the schooner by her side. The Irresistible still struggled, and her wire hawser snapped. The Bunkaree then had sole charge of the Mahukona. Practically no headway could be made. The anchor could not be drawn up, so the other anchor was let go in order to allow the schooner to find a secure anchorage. The anchors held fast, and the pilot decided to leave the vessel in that position for the time being.

The Mahukona was severely damaged, the rails around the stern of the vessel were carried away, and the port side was staved in in places by continually bumping against the bows of the other vessels.

TO ESCORT KOMAGATA

Following the arrival this morning of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Mexico Maru from the Orient, a report was spread along the waterfront to the effect that the two Japanese cruisers Asama and Azuma, which left Puget Sound on July 7 after a friendly visit to coast cities, were cruising about the British Columbia coast waiting to escort the steamship Komagata Maru safely across the Pacific. Nothing authentic in the matter could be obtained.

NEVADAN LEAVES PORT

Yesterday afternoon the American-Hawaiian freighter Nevadan, Capt. Anderson, was floated out of the Esquimalt drydock and proceeded to Port Angeles, Wash., from where she will sail for other coast ports. The Nevadan came here to have her bow repaired, following a collision with the San Pedro breakwater.

HUGE GOLD SHIPMENT BROUGHT FROM NOME

Victoria Reaches Seattle With Cargo Valued at Nearly $1,000,000; Speedy Trip

Seattle, July 22.—Bringing a cargo valued at $900,256, and consisting of bullion from the mining properties of the Seward peninsula, rich gold-bearing sand from the Nome beaches, shipments of furs, ivory, whalebone and other consignments, the Alaska Steamship company's steamer Victoria, Captain John A. O'Brien, reached pier 2 at 2:20 yesterday afternoon from Nome and St. Michael. The gold, in great steel chests, was stored in the vessel's hold. It is dumped on the pier with a little ceremony as a shipment of salt fish. The shipment of furs brought by the Victoria consists of 350 packages.

The Victoria made the voyage from Nome to Seattle in six days, twenty-one hours and nine minutes, which is near the record of the fleet, the Oregon having made a mark of six days and eighteen hours in 1904.

In addition to the bullion brought by the Victoria, the steamer Navajo, of the Western Alaska Steamship company, reached port from Nome and St. Michael with gold dust valued at $2,000, and the steamer Alameda, of the Alaska Steamship company, with $12,000 in bullion from the Cash Creek district.

FOUR PETS INTEREST MASTER WHEN AFLOAT

Capt. Jones, of Santa Rosalia, Interesting Mariner; Was Here 27 Years Ago

One of the most interesting navigators to visit British Columbia for many a day is Capt. Jones master of the Maple Leaf steamship Santa Rosalia, which called off this port last evening on her way up to Vancouver. Squamish and Prince Rupert from New York. When seen in his ship as the ship was being granted pratique at William Head he was surrounded by his four pets, which he carries with him on every ship. On the floor a big Newfoundland dog was playing with a black cat, and in a cage was a parrot, which was screaming out a lot of nautical sayings. To the length of its chain a small monkey was jumping about and kicking up its heels, while at intervals it would indulge in acrobatic tricks.

Capt. Jones has sailed the Pacific only on a few occasions. Twenty-seven years ago he visited Esquimalt on the British barque Adamant. He is serving his apprenticeship at that time. For some time the vessel rode at anchor in the naval harbor waiting for a charter. She was finally taken to load a cargo at Moodyville. Since that time Capt. Jones has been running mostly on the Atlantic.

Relieved Captain Pritchard. The Santa Rosalia has been to this coast in the Maple Leaf service on two previous occasions, but was commanded by Capt. Pritchard. On his return to the old country he tendered his resignation as he desired to enter the navy. Capt. Jones was signed on. He is glad to be back on this coast and intends to spend much of his time ashore looking over the remarkable changes which have taken place during his long absence, owing to the fact that the agents were anxious to get the Santa Rosalia into Vancouver as early as possible the ship did not stop here, but Capt. Jones will probably come across to Victoria to look over the town.

Capt. Jones reported a good outward trip. Last Sunday the Santa Rosalia struck a heavy N. W. sea and had to be slowed down. Capt. Jones expected to reach William Head yesterday morning, but the seas upset his calculations.

POTLATCH ARRIVES WITH BIG PARTY OF VISITORS

Early this morning the steamer Potlatch arrived in the inner harbor. She is on a pleasure cruise with Chas. E. Peabody, vice-president of the Puget Sound Navigation Co., and a party of 40. The Potlatch has been to Jarvis Inlet, Butte Inlet, Seymour Narrows, Comox, Nanaimo and Chemainus. Among the other passengers on board is J. G. Woodworth, second vice-president of the Northern Pacific railway. The steamer proceeds from here to Seattle via the Hood canal. The party has been away from the sound for ten days. The visitors took in the tally-ho drive around the city.

WHITE STAR LINERS.

The White Star-Dominion liner Canada, from Montreal Saturday, July 11, with 236 cabin passengers and a good-sized third class list, arrived at Liverpool on Sunday evening, July 19. The Teutonic, of the same fleet, from Liverpool July 11, arrived at Quebec on Saturday and at Montreal on Sunday.

MEXICO MARU BLOWN INTO SHIPS AT KOBE

Osaka Liner Was Damaged to Extent of $15,000; Injured Vessels She Struck

Caught in a howling typhoon while she was riding at her buoy at Kobe, Japan, with her steam pressure very low, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Mexico Maru, Capt. Kobayashi, broke adrift from her moorings and pursued an erratic course about the harbor. She came in violent contact with the stem of the steamship Shinano Maru, of the Nippon fleet, which operated here some years ago, and then swung round and bumped the vessel hard broadside on. Before the Mexico emerged from the affair she collided with another vessel, the Japan, of the British-India Steamship company. The Osaka ship suffered damage to the extent of $15,000, while the injuries to the other vessels did not amount to any great sum.

The Mexico Maru arrived here this morning from the Orient, and her officers told of the exciting time they had at Kobe when outward bound from Victoria to Hongkong. On June 23 the steamship made fast to a buoy in the harbor, and as usual the firemen let the steam drop. Without a moment's warning a terrific typhoon broke over the port, and as the Mexico tugged at her anchorage a shackle gave way and left the ship at the mercy of wind and wave. Across the harbor she was blown and the Shinano Maru was the first ship to come in her path. The steel stem of the Nippon liner struck the oncoming ship on the starboard abreast of No. 1 hold and bent in the bulwarks and stanchions and a number of plates and frames below the main deck. The bow of the Shinano acted as a pivot and the Mexico swung around until she was broadside on to the ship. They bumped each other heavily and much damage was inflicted before they were fended off.

Engines Are Turned Over. When the Mexico broke adrift orders were sent down to the stokehold for the full force of firemen to turn on and fill up the furnaces. Just after the steamship got clear of the starboard engine room found that there was sufficient steam to turn over the engines and the ship moved slowly ahead. The wind, however, took a sudden shift and carried her against the steamship Japan. One of the latter's lifeboats and some of the upperworks were crushed under the heavy blow delivered. Until the weather abated the Mexico steamed into the wind and sea. She put into Kobe for temporary repairs and later proceeded to Hongkong, where ten days were spent in repairing the damage forward.

Officers of the Mexico report a splendid inward voyage from Hongkong and Yokohama. The weather was good and enabled the steamship to arrive one day ahead of her schedule. The Mexico brought a light list of passengers and only 15 Japanese disembarked at this port. The steamship has almost a full cargo, and while here this morning discharged 300 tons of oriental merchandise.

HURRY OUT SALE

FITZPATRICK & O'CONNELL PLACE THEIR ENTIRE $50,000 STOCK ON SALE

THERE IS A REASON

Never before since we entered into the mercantile business in the city of Victoria did we have as much stock on hand at this time of the year. Our stock to-day invoices close to $50,000. This is about twice the size it should be in the middle of July. In order to give our early buyers a good selection of sizes, patterns and colors we purchased a very heavy stock. Now we must clear out what we have left. Commencing Thursday (to-morrow) July 23, we will throw on the market our entire stock, to be sold at prices which should tempt all to buy. This is not a sale of odds and ends, but a genuine reduction on every article or garment in the house.

A SALE OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Like a mighty, whirling comet shooting through the clear sky, comes this sale, blazing a path in the mercantile history which will be remembered for some time. Every article in our store, regardless of its insignificance or magnitude, will be sold at Fitzpatrick & O'Connell's Hurry Out Sale Prices. Let nothing keep you away. Buy while you can save money on everything you wish to purchase of us. Come, meet your friends; they are sure to be here if they are in the market for high-class merchandise at less than the price of inferior articles sold elsewhere. It is impossible to quote prices on everything carried in stock, but we quote a few to give you an idea of the saving which can be made.

INVITES CITIZENS.

Victoria Development Association Asks Business Men to Join in Sidney Excursion.

The council of the Victoria and Island Development association hopes that business men generally will join the members in the visit to the city of the Sidney Rubber Rolling company on Saturday. The visitors will meet at three o'clock at Sidney leaving the city at four o'clock. The party is arranged to cover the distance by automobile.

The company will have the largest oil tank north of San Francisco, with a capacity of 65,000 barrels. The prime purpose of the company is the manufacture of waterproof roofing material, for which there is an increasing demand in western Canada. The supply of rubber roofing and building paper has up to the present been supplied by manufacturers in California, in the Eastern United States, and in Eastern Canada. As crude oil is admitted into Canada free, the Sidney company will be able to obtain its raw product free of duty. It has already a contract with the General Petroleum company of California for the supply of oil over a term of years. The West liners have already contracted to take the oil of the company.

SUFFRAGE MEETING HAS GOOD SUPPORT

Miss Adela Parker, of Seattle, Addresses Meeting Presided Over by Dean of Columbia

The ballroom of the Empress hotel was the scene of the second well-attended suffrage lecture of the last few weeks last evening when Miss Adela Parker, well-known in Seattle as a worker in all progressive movements, spoke on "Men, Women and the Franchise." The chair was taken by the Very Rev. the Dean of Columbia, and with him on the platform, in addition to the speaker, was Mrs. Grant, president of the Political Equality league, under whose auspices the lecture took place.

In introducing the speaker the Dean of Columbia said that in the work of building up the empire both men and women should play a part. There might be differences of opinion, but everyone should at least be willing to listen to the other side. Miss Parker he introduced as the exponent of a great cause and the representative of a great nation.

The speaker of the evening devoted the opening part of her address to a general statement of the world-movement as it had existed from the earliest times of history, civilization having finally come, she said, to the jumping-off place at the Pacific coast. Here a true democracy was taking place; the people no longer depended in Oregon, Washington, or California, on lawmakers to make their laws. Officials no longer went into office to remain there whether they gave good service or not, but might be retired in the middle of their terms if the people so wished. It was the same with the casting aside of the old idea that women should not vote.

Miss Parker then proceeded to tell the history of the granting of the franchise to women in many of the western states, particularly pointing to the story of Wyoming territory, which was the first place in America to grant suffrage (in 1869) to its women. Later, when there was talk of its being taken into the union, Wyoming refused to enter unless she could come in with woman suffrage. This condition was refused her but ultimately, in 1890, she came in on her own terms.

It was always well, said Miss Parker, to have suffrage introduced as a single issue, not coupled with prohibition, socialism, or some other issue. In their Washington state campaign little attention had been paid to winning over the women who opposed the granting of woman suffrage. Women had no votes, and did not count. They went instead to the men's meetings and got the voters interested. They also got the press on their side, and made suffrage socially popular. Making enemies was an unwise course. Even the opposition should not be more antagonized. "Wearying the unjust judge" was another effective form of tactics; every woman could find someone to listen to a short suggestion on the subject every day.

Workers should not be discouraged by splits in the party. Divisions in the suffrage movement were one of the most wholesome signs possible. Then, too, people admired power. This might not be right, but it was human nature. Every success in the cause was the father of other successes. There should be no broken suffrage from the Arctic to Central America, Oregon, Washington, California and Alaska all had equal suffrage. British Columbia should join a movement, the success of which would ultimately be absolutely necessary to oppose the influence of the Orient which was facing us from across the Pacific, with its age-old traditions of the subsidiary position of women. The Occident was but little removed itself from a comparative measure of the same tradition. It was but two years since the first woman physician of England had died. Dr. Elizabeth Blackwell, who had found the greatest difficulty in getting entrance to any medical school in either England or America, and had been socially ostracized for many years after she went to Geneva, N. Y., as a student. To-day, however, there were 12,000 women physicians in America, recognized by men physicians as almost indispensable to the profession.

Women were still in many parts of the Occident not supposed to require the same intellectual diversions as men. It was 193 years after the opening of the Boston library before a woman was allowed to use it. Harvard even to-day did not open its library to women. In the west women had at first only been educated because they had to have someone to teach the boys.

But the problem was deeper than appeared at a superficial glance. Women could see that there was too much waste not only in food and energy, but in actual life. Women, whose care through generations had been the harder, wanted a chance to add her experience to the question of the distribution of food. Tons of fish were annually thrown overboard in Seattle; in Georgia not long ago men had to be sent out at the point of the bayonet to bury produce which could not be marketed although it was panned year in most of the other states. wanted to stop such waste; they wanted to stop the waste of war, the waste of child labor.

What had women done with the vote where they had it? In Washington state they had succeeded in getting the Motherhood Endowment Act; there had been an attempt to pass a minimum wage law; there was a "lazy husband" act (although she did not altogether approve of this!); they had helped in making over an inefficient mayor in Seattle; and they were so set against bad men that there was very little chance for any man with a notorious scandalous history to get any public office. The whole tone of thought had been elevated. The tendency of women everywhere was to vote money into the schools for practical work rather than into the military. The women with the ballot were opposing segregated schools as it was recognized that boys naturally had courage and independence, girls a strong ethical sense; the co-education system gave each a chance to play off on the other, with benefit to all.

In putting the vote of thanks moved by Mrs. Gordon Grant, seconded by Mrs. W. J. Roper, the Dean of Columbia expressed the pleasure which he had felt in listening to so moderate and convincing an address, and added that the subject of woman suffrage had reached the point where it demanded careful consideration by men and women in every part of the empire.

Once Upon a Time

there was a Mississippi steamboat with a whistle so big that every time it blew, the boat stopped. The whistle took all the steam.

There are lots of people to-day who exhaust all their energy every time they "blow their whistle."

The trouble is, they have no reserve to carry them through the average duties of every-day life.

Human strength and energy are obtained from food. And it is plain that it must contain the vitalizing elements which the system can take up and store as reserve power for occasions, not only ordinary, but extraordinary.

MAY ROW IN EAST NEXT SUMMER

N. P. A. O. Champion Anxious to Enter St. Kitts Regatta; E. B. Butler Boosts Local Sculler

Victoria will in all likelihood be represented at the Canadian Henley in 1915, if the present plans of Billy Kennedy, the V. A. A. single sculler, are carried out. The N. P. A. O. champion is more than delighted with his showing at Portland and also his work at Nelson, when he was defeated by but three lengths by E. B. Butler, the well-known Toronto sculler. Kennedy leaves to-day for Shawinigan Lake, where he will spend a few days resting up after his long siege of training. He established a new record at Portland, and is confident that he will be able to improve next season so that he counts on entering for the Canadian championships at St. Catharines a year from now.

E. B. Butler, of Toronto, returned home last night after spending yesterday in the capital and he was delighted with his first trip to the coast. He will attempt to wrest the American sculling title from Bobbie Dibble at Philadelphia on August 8. Butler will not compete in the Canadian Henley events the first part of August, preferring to reserve his strength for the Philadelphia regatta. He is now rowing for the Toronto Rowing club, after a number of years with the Argonauts. He has the unusual honor of being the only active oarsman of the once famous T. R. C.

Victoria's oarsmen, while not complaining, are not over jubilant at the hotel accommodation that was reserved for them at the Nelson celebration. The crews wired from Portland for rooms, and were assured that they would be looked after. Imagine their surprise upon reaching that city to find every room filled with one or two visitors, the local crews having to sleep in cots in the basement of the hotel. They secured their meals at the exhibition grounds.

Blaney Scott was detained at Nelson on business, and he will return to Victoria later. The boys were tickled with their showing, while Butler praised Kennedy highly for his excellent sculling and style.

The Toronto veteran is a little off when he states that Dibble is too heavy for a champion. Dibble defeated Butler twice at over 180 lbs. at St. Catharines, while Sinigaglia, the Italian Giant who captured the Diamond Sculls this year in England, weighs nearly 220 lbs. and stands six feet five in height.

VICTORY OF WESTS

City League Teams Play Tonight; Lacrosse Association Meets Friday

One of the most important games of the City Lacrosse league is booked to-night at Macaulay Point, when the Oak Bay twelve make their debut against the Wests. The Oaks have one of the strongest teams that ever represented this club, and unless the Wests show improvement over the form that they displayed on Saturday at Sidney, they are due for a surprise. The Oaks have all their old favorites in line, while they hope to spring a couple of newcomers who will more than make good. The Wests had to take the field at Sidney with a weakened team, but their juniors made a good showing despite the fact that they failed to score a goal. The game will start at 6.30 and the officials will be chosen to-day.

On Saturday the Oaks and Sidney team play at the Saanich capital, when the Oaks hope to have Jeff Baker, Percy Beasley, Joe Mitchell and possibly another well-known lacrosse star in action. Should the Oaks win to-night, a win over the Sidney team will give them a fairly good lead over the two remaining clubs in the City organization. A loss to the Wests means that the Oaks must win from Sidney to create a three-cornered fight for the honors.

Friday night's meeting of the Victoria Lacrosse association has been called by Dr. Hall to consider a protest which the Sidney twelve have lodged against the Wests for the game last week at Macaulay Point. Arrangements will also be made for a championship trophy, while the champions of this league will probably play the Mainland Intermediate title-holders.

The Victoria West team will be picked from the following, all of whom are requested to be on hand at 6.30 o'clock sharp to-morrow evening: W. Fairall, H. Campbell, S. Smith, C. Fairall (captain), B. Dinsmore, "Dutch" Rosecamp, Bolton, Brown, L. Jenkins, J. Hancock, H. Plump, Fred Young, E. Stevens, Cole, H. Brown, S. Thompson, Popham, Woodley and Mesher.

Oak Bay: Goal, Medrich; point, E. MacDonald; cover point, F. Weaver; first defence, E. Braden; second defence, Redgrave; third defence, R. McInnes; centre, White; third home, A. Williams; second home, C. Taylor; first home, G. Martin; outside home, C. MacDonald; inside home, Mitchell; reserve home, Dempster and Nobbs; reserve defence, Pierce and A. Knox.

EVERYTHING READY FOR CORDOVA BAY REGATTA

The final details for the regatta and water carnival to be held at Cordova Bay on Saturday have been settled by the energetic committee in charge. There are twenty-eight well-filled events, including diving, rowing and launch and canoe racing.

A hearty invitation is issued to boat and launch owners for whom post entry events will be provided. The beach will be illuminated at night and there will be an immense bonfire. The donors of prizes include H. Maynard & Son, Terry's drug store, Aaronson & Elwin, Adams' grocery store, McKinnon Bros., Sam M. Scott, F. Norris & Sons, Hickman-Tye Hardware company, The Killarney Tea Gardens, Mr. C. C. Smith and Mr. W. J. Hambley. Several cash donations have helped to swell the prize list.

INTER-CITY GAMES

WILL BE BOOKED

Playgrounds Schedule Drawn Up; Beavers Win Bay League Fixture

Steps are now being taken to have the Victoria and Vancouver Clubber baseball team play a series of games for the inter-city title, while Manager McMorran, of the local club, is anxious to bring the Port Angeles, Westminster and Nanaimo ball clubs to the city. The Clubbers state that they will not lack for games as they have had requests from a number of out of town teams for fixtures. Another matter under consideration is a game between a picked City League club and the Clubbers for the benefit of the Summers family. The Doctors and Dentists will play on Thursday at the ball park for this fund, and another game may also be staged.

Four clubs have entered the Play-ground Baseball league, which opened on Monday when the Beacon Hills defeated the Rectors 28 to 6. Bob Cummings has been elected captain of the Hillsides, J. Sproule, captain of the Rectors; Harry Copas, captain of the Beacon Hills, and Russ Pollock, captain of the Athletics. The schedule is as follows:

Rectors vs. Beacon Hills, August 2, 7.
Athletes vs. Hillsides, July 21, August 4, 13.
Hillsides vs. Beacon Hills, July 22, August 5, 19.
Beacon Hills vs. Rectors, July 22, August 6, 20.
Athletes vs. Beacon Hills, July 24, August 7, 21.
Hillsides vs. Rectors, July 25, August 8, 22.
Beacon Hills vs. Hillsides, July 27, August 10, 24.
Rectors vs. Athletics, July 28, August 11, 25.
Rectors vs. Hillsides, July 29, August 12, 26.
Beacon Hills vs. Athletics, July 30, August 13, 27.
Athletes vs. Rectors, July 31, August 14, 28.
Hillsides vs. Beacon Hills, August 1, 15, 29.

The games take place in the morning at 10 o'clock. A team playing less than six men will forfeit its matches. The games are played for the Spalding medals of which there are twelve for the winning team of the league. Each team can carry fifteen players, and in order to get a medal, a player on the winning team must have played at least two-thirds of the league matches. All players must be signed by July 25. Each team can use one junior player. The age limit is placed at under 15 years.

This evening at 6.30 o'clock the fast Beacon Hill and White Sox Junior leagues will clash at Central (North Ward) park. A collection will be taken up for one of the injured Beacon Hill players benefit. Curtis will likely occupy the box for the White Sox with Parks or Kerr catching, while Slater will pitch and Clegg catch for the Hills. The following players of the Beacon Hill are requested to be present at the park by 6.30 ready for play: Clegg, P. Slater, D. Slater, Patterson, R. Copas, H. Copas, Travis, Rickerson and Jackson.

With Jerry Travis on the mound, pitching superb ball, the "rovers" downed the Nationals last evening at the Beacon Hill cricket grounds. Travis was stony, both with hits and walking tickets, passing but two men during the evening and allowing just three hits. Copas and Jackson also starred for the winners, while Bobby Livingston shone for the losers. Walter Lormire umpired satisfactorily.

The Seals won from the Shamrocks at the Hill by default, Friday night the Beavers and Seal teams will battle.

At last night's Commercial league meeting it was decided to have the protested games between the Bapcos and Outlaws and Allied Printers and Bapcos replied. The League will take no action with regard to the suspended players, though the management of the Outlaws feel that McGregor and McIlroy should have their suspension lifted because of their having played but part of an inning.

Theo. Townsley, captain of the Allied Printing Trades team, received a telegram from the manager of the Seattle Times "Ducks" for a game with the locals on the 9th, 13th or 28th of August. They are going to Vancouver to play the Vancouver World, and will also come to Victoria to meet Townsley's proteges.

GARDEN FETE MEETS

WITH LIBERAL SUPPORT

Undertaking of Lady Douglas Chapter Proves Financial and Social Success

The garden fete held yesterday in the beautiful grounds belonging to Colonel and Mrs. Coy, Rockland avenue, drew an even larger crowd last evening than during the afternoon, although the first half of the proceedings were highly successful from every standpoint. The programme provided by the Scotch pipers, and the pierrot-concert, were the two principal attractions of the evening, the pipers, in their romantic Highland garb, and the pierrots, in pantaloons and hoods, making picturesque figures as they moved about the grounds.

The concert programme, prepared by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. McCannan, was as follows: Mrs. Percy Oster, "Dear Heart"; Mrs. McCannan, "I'm Falling in Love With Someone"; Mrs. Roy Troup, "An Open Secret"; Miss Phyllis Davis, "Whoopsy Daisy"; George Shaw, "Singers and Talkers"; Robert Mackenzie, "Jack's the Boy"; and "Knock, Knock." Robert Horton, "Will You Take This Woman For Your Wedded Wife?" T. Schuch, "Mandala"; and duets by Mrs. Troup and Mr. Norton, "In a Garden of Roses"; and Miss Davis and Bert Davis, "Will You Promenade With Me?" Mrs. A. J. Gibson made a very sympathetic accompanist, and contributed not a little to the excellence of the programme.

During the afternoon and evening nearly four hundred people were served with teas, the little tables arranged on the upper terrace being particularly attractive with their appropriate decorations of flags and toy gun-carriages, Scotch thistles, etc. The tables were in charge of Mesdames Riddell and Hamilton, with a number of assistants, and the fare provided was excellent. Under the flag-draped balcony Mrs. McMicking conducted her unique and interesting art collection which provided many with an amusing half-hour's diversion. Assisting her were Mrs. Renwick and the Misses Renwick. In the rustic summer house on one of the lower terraces Miss Bowser and Miss P. Irving conducted the ever-popular "Butterfly" contest, dozens of ambitious efforts in gay colors adorning the tables bet the close of the evening. The prize winners in this were Colonel Hobday and Mrs. Heblen Gillespie, the prizes having been presented by Mrs. McMicking and Mrs. Croft.

Of the several raffish baby's basset cover offered at the candy-stall, while Mrs. Peter Turner won the "Kittie" doll, the candy stall did a brisk business, being in charge of Mrs. Peter Turner, and Miss Dorothy McTavish, assisted by the Misses Helmsken and Jean Tolmie. Nearby was the Aunt Sally "pitch," presided over by Miss Tolmie, assisted by Messrs. Morris and Fuller. This was among the most popular diversions on the grounds. Another competition of an amusing character was the "Porcible Feeding" contest in charge of Mrs. George Turner, in which the onlooker had the best part of the fun. The winners in this, Mrs. Sanderson and Mr. de Trafford, and Miss Munro and Mr. Agor, received the prizes presented by Mrs. Croft, Mrs. Dennis Harris, Mrs. J. A. Hall, and Colonel Currie.

Soft drinks and ices were to be found in a sheltered corner beneath the bandstand, those helping at the table being Mrs. Hallam, assisted by Mrs. Lawder, Mrs. Currie, Miss Currie, Miss Lawder and Miss Hudson.

"Zuleika," the fortune-teller, conducted her mysterious art in an attractively arranged corner, the poster announcing her place being designed by Mrs. H. C. Hanington.

Many others assisted in the success of the undertaking in various ways, running errands of all kinds. These were the Misses Peggy and Ruth McBride, Marjorie and Katie Renwick, Mary Ratenbury and Marjorie Currie. At the gate Mrs. Robson did signal service as chief of "the receipt of custom," perhaps one of the busiest posts on the grounds. An excellent programme of music was provided by the Boy Scouts' band under Bandmaster Ploverlight, and the Scotch pipers, who provided Highland dances and spirited bagpipe selections.

Thanks were expressed by the Lady Douglas Chapter to Colonel and Mrs. Coy, who had so kindly lent their beautiful grounds for the undertaking, and to all others who had given assistance in any way to the success of the enterprise.

Entries for the Victoria meet close on Friday and it will be impossible to accept names after that date because of the trouble in preparing the draws.

SMITH'S TWIRLING

BROKE THE JINX

Victoria Shut Out Ballard, Tacoma and Vancouver Also Winning

Victoria's ball team is to be given a real shaking up. President Joshua Kingham leaves to-day for Seattle, where he will confer with Manager Williams as to bolstering up the Bees. The club seems to have again fallen into a rut, and after a month's brilliant baseball, they have dropped seven out of the last nine games. Owner Kingham is not saying who will be benched, but it is a certainty that the Victoria team will be shifted about in the next day or so. A new pitcher is due from the south, while Owner Kingham would like to recall Pitcher Chapman. It is also possible that he will pull off a deal with one of the Western Canada league clubs for a twirler and perhaps a slugging outfielder.

The Feds are said to be after Martin Killaly, Holke, another of the Seattle pitchers and a right-handed hitting outfielder of the Vancouver club. This must be Wotell or Brinker, who hits on either side. Wotell might go, but Brinker never. McMullin, of the Tacoma Tigers, hitting .290, has been approached also. Winn Noyes was taken aside last week and offered a good salary by the Fed agent here.

Bill Jackson, last year first baseman on the Seattle club, who jumped to the Chicago outlaws, is suffering from blood poisoning in his right leg. He was spiked in a game at Indianapolis recently and dirt got in the wound. He is in a bad way.

In connection with the sale of the Portland team to Quinn Farr, a Seattle timber broker, McCredie said that he retained the privilege of grabbing whatever player he desired in the fall for the Portland Coast league team as part of the purchase price, but believed that the provision would be abrogated.

Mike Lynch may be able to talk Holke out of going, for a couple of big leagues are after the youngster, so he is practically sure of promotion.

Al Gipe got an offer of $500 per month from the Feds and turned it down flat.

Outfielder Marsans, who has gone to Cuba in disgust, has found out that a quick way to retire from baseball is to jump a contract.

It is also said that Dunn intends to turn the franchise of the Orioles over to the International league so that he can retire from baseball. Dunn was recently turned down when he asked his league partners to help him financially, so he decided to sell Cree, Derrick, Twombly, Ruth, Shore, Egan, Danis, Midkiff, and others for a total of about $60,000.

Seattle, July 22.—With Slim Smith working along in tireless form, the Victoria club broke its losing streak yesterday at the expense of the Ballard club, the Bees shutting out the Shingle-makers 2 to 0, in a brilliant twirling duel. The Victoria hurler held the Ballard fence-busters to three bingles and was invincible in the pinches. His support cracked at times, but he managed to hang on to the three-run lead that the Bees handed him early in the game, the fast fielding of the Victoria infield cutting off a couple of Ballard's chances to score. Moran's base running and the work of "Skin" Tietze, who relieved Framback in the ninth,

REACHES SETTLEMENT ABOUT PANDORA AVE.

No Arbitrations Will Be Necessary; Court of Revision Sits To-morrow

After the protracted negotiations about the extension of Pandora avenue, by a decision of the finance committee of the city council adopted yesterday afternoon, the last two cases outstanding will be reported for settlement. They are the property of Mrs. Warwick, who is to be compensated at the rate of $9,000, and that of Mr. Coady Johnson, at $8,800, both premises being on Stanley avenue, through which the extension of the street will pass.

The by-law for the work on the extension of the street, to be adopted to-morrow, to approve the local improvement assessment, but it is by no means the first time that the matter has been before the court of revision.

When the subject was up in the closing days of the late council, objection was taken by some of the owners that there was an inequality of assessment on those properties which extend through to adjacent streets, as the owners have been charged on the whole of the lots, whereas only part benefits on the street where it abuts.

The matter was sent forward to the present court of revision, who adopted the assessment, and with it a report on the matter from city officials, but the assessment was upset on appeal to the civil courts on the ground of insufficient notice to owners affected. To-morrow the whole procedure must be recommenced.

Alderman Porter will be acting chairman of the finance committee in the absence of Alderman McNeill, who will be away some weeks.

When the aldermen meet on Friday afternoon next to take up the police pension proposal, there will be present both the police commissioners, and the officers of the Police Mutual Benefit Association. The police commissioners have drafted a scheme, the details of which have been laid before the council members for their consideration, for the operation of the scheme in case of resignation, disability, or death, in which case provision has to be made for widows or orphans.

A report is to be in to the meeting of the streets committee on that afternoon with regard to the sidewalks on Gorge road, in that section from Douglas street to Manchester road, as the council only laid paving when the work was done, and considerable retaining walls and cutting will be necessary to add sidewalks. There is about $5,000 worth of underground work to be done in the section between Manchester road and Harriet road, which would complete the road to the city boundary. Work is in progress now on Blackwood street and Rock Bay avenue, both of which are being paved with asphalt.

Canadian Order of Foresters.—A meeting of Court Columbia No. 82, C. O. F., branch in Canada, taking place at 8:30 p. m. on Thursday evening at 8, All Foresters are welcome.

LOCAL NEWS

Amateur Night—In connection with the regular show "The Girl From Vassar," by The Frank Rich company at The Variety theatre to-night, some of the best local talent will be on the programme; in other words this is "Amateur Night" at this popular playhouse. Plenty of fun is assured. Large audiences are expected to take advantage of this extra attraction.

Sailors Help Fund—The committee of the Cornhill Seaman's Institute are exceedingly pleased with the result of collections on board the S. S. Princess Alice, the officers of which have raised $107.10 by their concert on board. The steamer has just arrived from Skagway, $35.95 being raised during the voyage.

Hold Basket Picnic—The members and friends of the First Unitarian church will hold a basket picnic at the Uplands Friday afternoon. Those attending will meet at the Uplands terminus at 2:30 o'clock, while those who are unable to be present by 2:30 will join the body on the beach near the Old Country tea gardens. All friends are cordially invited to attend. Games and field sports will be held.

St. John's Picnic—A large number of the Sunday school children of St. John's church, together with many of the parents and older members of the church, will out this morning to Goldstream, where the annual picnic is being held. Their numbers were augmented by many others who left in the afternoon train for the same destination, among the number being Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, the assistant rector, and Mrs. Chadwick, while No. 5 Troop, Boy Scouts, paraded early this morning in order to meet the rest of the party on their way to the early train. Well-filled hamper and good weather accompanied the party, and the day is passing off under most favorable auspices.

Sunshine and Rain—The strange contrast of weather conditions throughout the province still continues, the fine sunny weather here being unbroken, while the daily downpour along the northern coast regions and in the Cariboo and Parkerville districts is also an unchanged condition.

In the last 24 hours at Prince Rupert two inches of rain have fallen, while in the Cariboo country there have been three-quarters of an inch fall in the same time. The rains at this season of the year are particularly fortunate as assisting in abating forest fires. In the Kootenay district the weather is cooler, and the temperatures, as a result of the rain, have moderated considerably all down the Coast.

Thunderstorms are reported from Manitoba, and in Ontario the warm wave still prevails, 89 degrees being reported from Toronto. To-day the highest temperature recorded in Victoria was 61 degrees, and yesterday the maximum was 67.

STOLE A MAUSER RIFLE.

Sooke Resident Walked Off With Fine Weapon From Peden Brothers Store.

Peter Poirier, Sooke, was in Peden Brothers' store yesterday afternoon making some small purchases, and while there he cast covetous eyes on the fine $40 Mauser rifle in one of the racks. He made up his mind to steal one of them.

When he saw that no one in the store was looking his way he swiftly took a rifle from the rack and shoved it down one leg of his overalls, and walked rapidly out of the store. Provincial Constable Owens had just stepped in and saw the action, and immediately started after Poirier, who ran across Government street.

The half-breed had not got far before he was caught, taken back to the store, and from there to the police station.

This morning he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in jail at hard labor.

PERSONAL.

Miss E. Shaumessy, of Swift Current, is visiting at Mrs. T. H. Collins, 349 Sylvia street.

Miss A. Mortimer and Miss Woolf left yesterday for a two weeks' stay at Sol Duc.

The Rev. C. A. deVere White, late of Birkenhead, England, arrived yesterday morning by the Niagara from Australia, where he has been working for some time. He is the guest of Mrs. Dorothy Clowes, 248 Wildwood avenue, Powl Bay.

MEDICAL COLLEGE AND CHIROPRACTORS

Local Practitioners of Massage Treatment Prosecuted by Old Line Medicos

Emboldened by its success in a recent Vancouver case, the College of Physicians and Surgeons has turned its attention to chiropractors who have been carrying on business in this city, and three cases were brought by George Burrows, special agent of the college. Two of these cases were heard and convictions recorded by the police magistrate to-day, and the third will be dealt with in the morning.

C. F. Davis appeared for the private prosecution in all the cases, the first one to be taken up being that against John P. Taylor, R. C. Lowe appeared as counsel for Mr. Taylor. The hearing of this and the other case occupied the court until after one o'clock, and as the magistrate was not able to sit this afternoon the third one was set for to-morrow.

John T. Marshall, a foreman of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, consulted Mr. Taylor at the instance of the special agent of the college, and explained that he was suffering from an enlarged hip and a trained back. Mr. Taylor examined him and told him that some of the vertebrae could be placed, which could be remedied in five treatments at $2 each. One was given then, this consisting of rubbing and kneading of the back by the hands of the operator, who also gave him some directions about eating and bathing.

George Burrows, special agent for the College of Physicians and Surgeons, said he had visited Mr. Taylor's office next day and asked if he had treated Marshall. The reply he got was: "We call it adjustment; it is all the same thing."

In answer to Mr. Lowe the witness admitted that Mr. Taylor had been perfectly frank with him and had even treated a patient while he was in the office.

Mr. Taylor described himself as a chiropractor, one who adjusts spinal trouble with hand and pressure. He had explained to Mr. Marshall that by justifying the spine this would take the pressure off the nerve, and nature would do the rest; he had nothing more to do with it. For the hip he could do nothing and told Marshall so.

In reply to Mr. Lowe he said he had never at any time expressed what he calls "a willingness or ability to diagnose or treat any human disease."

His worship quoted a sentence from the advertising matter which seemed to him to be such an expression: "If you are sick and have tried everything else and have not got help, try chiropractic spinal adjustments and get well."

Mr. Taylor contended that adjustment was a different thing from treatment, even though adjustment brought about conditions of health through giving nature a chance to do her own work. Using a homely illustration he said the taking of a kink out of a hose or removing a brick lying upon it, and thus giving free course to the water, was an adjustment, but if there was a leak in it this would require treatment.

In reply to the magistrate, Mr. Taylor stated that he was a graduate of a duly recognized chiropractic college in Davenport, Iowa, where the course of study covered two years, six months in each. There is no examination in this province for a chiropractor to pass, he added.

Mr. Lowe submitted Ontario decisions under his Medical act, that known as the Henderson case, where the medical college lost, presenting the practitioner as going far beyond anything Mr. Taylor had done. In that case the division court held that it was impossible to practice medicine without administering medicines and drugs. Counsel put in a letter sent to E. L. Hodges, also a defendant now, in which Dr. A. P. Proctor had informed him that he could practice massage.

Magistrate Jay held that the defendant had practised medicine in the sense of holding himself out as willing to treat human diseases, deformities and defects, which was specifically forbidden by the Medical Act. He imposed a fine of $25, but refused to give the prosecution any costs.

The second case was against Charles A. Kelly, who practices this art in the Hibben-Bone block, and is in partnership with his wife in the practice of optometry, and prescribing glasses for defects of the eyes. In this case W. H. Bullock-Webster appeared as counsel for the defence.

John G. Marshall, who had visited Mr. Kelly after he had been to the other chiropractor, told the same story as he had done in the other case. He was pretty sharply cross-examined by Mr. Bullock-Webster, and in the end admitted that what had been done to his spine was a massage.

Superintendent Agent Burrows told of a visit he had paid to Mr. Kelly's office following Marshall's call as a "spotter."

Mr. Kelly, a native of Cobourg, Ont., lived in Nelson in childhood and for every slip made by their opponents, Messrs. B. Rhodes and A. S. Milne, the two star local players defeated Messrs. P. Denton and A. Pringle, of Tacoma, in the semi-final of the international doubles at the Shaughnessy Heights tennis courts this morning, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2. The final of the singles between Rhodes and Captain Foulkes is scheduled to be played this afternoon.

CHALLENGE FOR MINTO CUP.

Toronto, July 22.—W. K. George, chairman of the Minto cup trustees, has received the N. L. U. challenge for the famous silverware. Rosedale are scheduled to play the Minto cup on August 29th, while the N. L. U. is not finished until September 7th, consequently the Toronto champions will receive the first dates and will leave early in September for the coast.

TELEPHONE CONDUIT ISSUE

A non-committal reply has been received by the city solicitor to the query asking for an offer in writing from the B. C. Telephone company in connection with the telephone conduit problem. The company does not explain why the aldermen most desired to know what would be the minimum cost in damages in case of the city receding from the agreements of 1910 and 1912.

The letter says in part: "We regret exceedingly that there has been so many delays in getting this matter adjusted, but are still willing to arrange an agreement for delaying the acquisition of rights of way and easements by the city on terms already discussed. We are now proceeding to complete the work under the terms of the original agreement."

ing in the Times, in which he calls himself a nerve and health specialist, and which advertisement, as in the Taylor case, was what drew Marshall's attention.

As Mr. Davis would not admit the letters put in by Mr. Lowe, Mr. Bullock-Webster put into the box Edward L. Hodges, a masseur, to prove that he had received from the registrar of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, a letter stating that so long as he was within his rights, Mr. Davis, save time in cross-examining the witness, agreed to admit the correctness of what Mr. Bullock-Webster intended to ask.

"I understand then," said counsel, "that it is admitted by the college that so long as a person confines themselves to the practice of massage they need not pass any examination."

His worship remarked that massage had been practiced in this city for many years.

Mr. Bullock-Webster said that was so, but if the Medical Act was to be followed as preventing practice by chiropractors it would also prohibit the practice of massage. They had to manipulate, to work with the hands. If any college chose to call this chiropractic instead of massage, it did not make it any the less massage. In any event, counsel said, he did not want it to be thought that the conviction of Mr. Kelly, should the court think him guilty of an offence under the act, stamped him as a quack. On the contrary, he was a qualified graduate of a duly organized college teaching a form of treatment which the College of Physicians and Surgeons of this province did not wish to recognize.

His worship held that while Marshall's evidence by itself would not be enough to convict, the advertisement by Mr. Kelly of himself as a nerve and health specialist brought him within the act. The same fine was imposed.

It is understood that the cases will be appealed in order to settle the standing of these practitioners in the province.

After the court had adjourned Mr. Kelly, following a remark by Mr. Burrows, complained to the clerk of the court that the agent of the college had addressed a threat to him in the form of telling him he would be looked after. Burrows was ordered by the clerk to leave the room.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late William Marshall took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the parlors of Hanna & Thomson, Rev. Gilbert Cook officiated. A large number of the deceased's shipmates from the steamship Princess Victoria attended in a body. The hymn, "Rock of Ages," was sung at the service. There was a large number of beautiful floral tributes, among them a large wreath from his shipmates in the Princess Victoria. The pallbearers were J. McPherson, J. Cameron, J. Simpson, George Masters, William Gunton and R. Davis.

The funeral of Reginald Wilfred Thomas Ralph, infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ralph, whose death occurred on the 19th inst., took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his parents' residence, 430 All Street. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives, and the floral tributes were many and beautiful. Rev. Thomas Green officiated. The funeral arrangements were made by Sands Funeral Furnishing Co.

The death occurred on the 19th inst. at the Jubilee hospital of Jesse Triggs, aged 43 years. The late Mr. Triggs has been a resident of the city for some time and his many friends will regret to hear of his demise. The remains are reposing at the parlors of Hanna & Thomson awaiting the arrival of his brother from the south. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

VALUE OF THE SEALERS

Victoria Sealing Company's Case is Again Before Commission in Rebuttal of Crown Allegations.

The hearing of the case of the Victoria Sealing company was resumed by the sealing commission this forenoon, the court and crown counsel having had time to consider the documents put in a week ago by Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K.C., on behalf of the company.

The evidence being put in to-day is in the nature of rebuttal of what the crown claims as to the condition and value of some of the schooners owned by the company. A number of men were called who had sailed on them to speak as to their condition from season to season, and as to the reasons for the refusal of Indians to ship on one or two of them in certain cases.

Evidence will also be offered as to the value of the schooners by putting the builders in the box, who, it is still alive, or else some testimony given as to the value of the vessels when they were acquired by the company.

W. J. Taylor, K.C., is with Frank J. Curran, of Montreal, for the crown in this case. The hearing is expected to last better part of a week.

TWO EXTRA CARS

ON SAANICH LINE

Garden City Deputation to B. C. Electric Manager, Gains Concessions

In response to the request of a deputation of residents of Garden City, A. T. Goward, local manager of the B. C. Electric Railway company, announced this afternoon that the Saanich interurban service would be increased by the addition of two special cars. One will arrive in the city at approximately 8:15 a. m., and the other will probably leave Victoria at 6:30 p. m. This service will operate as far as Eberhart. The exact schedule will be worked out by officers of the company and the service will be put in operation in a few days.

The deputation was sent by an assembly of Garden City residents who met in a hall near Marlford station last evening. T. Steinhilber was chairman and explained that the gathering was held to discuss the situation which had arisen due to the cutting off of five cars on the Saanich line a few days ago. After discussion lasting an hour the views of the meeting were found to be in favor of asking the company to give a half-hour service at least to Marlford from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. Many people to whom the present service is inconvenient expressed their views.

Another question which was raised was that of fares. At present the rate is 10 cents single, or 15 cents return. The meeting was strongly of the opinion that the fare could be cut to five cents, and this was one of the things that the deputation asked Mr. Goward to take up this morning. Mr. Goward stated that he would forward the request to headquarters, but was convinced that nothing could be done.

The members of the deputation were Mrs. L. Poirier, Mrs. T. Steinhilber, Mrs. F. W. Harrison, Mrs. John Halser, and Messrs. Nix, Halser, Laurence, Edwards, Holmes, Letts, Povey, Harrison, Steinhilber, Perry, Chambers and O'Neil.

After talking the situation over with Mr. Goward in his office this morning the deputation stated that the most urgent need was for a car which would bring school and business people into the city about half past eight in the morning, and a car which would take home business men after 6 o'clock. It was to satisfy this need that Mr. Goward promised to take up the matter of the two extra trains.

COMPANY'S CASE IS EMBODIED IN LETTER

B. C. Electric Railway States Position on Wider Roadbed of Johnson Street Bridge

To discuss further the situation with regard to the B. C. Electric railway's request that the Johnson street bridge should be widened, there was another meeting of the Johnson street bridge committee of the city council yesterday afternoon.

The committee had before it a letter from Chief Engineer Conway, of the B. C. Electric railway, in which he set out the attitude of the company. This was forwarded to the mayor by Local Manager Goward.

This letter said: "With reference to the above and our recent interview with Mr. Rust, city engineer, when the question of the bridge was originally discussed between the engineers of the interested parties, the main dimensions were agreed upon at a meeting when there were present Mr. Gamble, representing the provincial government; Mr. Campbell, for the C.P.R.; Mr. Rust, for the city of Victoria; Mr. McLaughlin, for the Dominion government, and myself, representing the B.C.E.R. A memorandum was drawn up, dated March 26, 1913, and the following paragraph agreed upon: "The bridge shall be so designed as to carry a double track electric railway, centre to centre of tracks to be 13 feet, and the clearance for the double track, outside to outside, to be 22 feet, with a roadway on each side of 12 feet, and a footpath outside the trusses of seven feet. Outside the roadway on each side will be a wheel guard of six inches, making the total width between trusses 47 feet.

"This pavement on the bridge shall be continued from side to side, and shall be formed of creosoted wooden blocks. The outside footpath shall be the same.

"The details of the rail and trolley wires to be hereafter decided upon." "From the description of the proposed bridge issued from the city engineer's office, dated 25th July, 1914, which you have forwarded to me, I notice that an independent track has been provided for the E. & N. Railway company, and that the roadway proper has been reduced to 29 feet; provision is made for two car tracks spaced 19 feet, centres, and the loading to be provided for is for cars not exceeding 34 tons.

"This is a radical alteration from the original proposals regarding the bridge, and will seriously affect our company when the future development of the land on the Songhees reserve has advanced. In all our discussions upon the subject it has been assumed that the company would be required to haul freight, acting as a distributor from the steam railroads, and the commercial future of the Songhees reserve depends upon the facilities provided to manufacturers and others for that purpose. As modified, the bridge would be useless to our company, as the Dominion regulations require a spacing of 13 feet centres for hauling freight, and our heaviest electric locomotives weigh about sixty-two tons, while many of the freight cars exceed fifty tons. In Vancouver all bridges have been designed so that the company can run the heaviest electric locomotives over them, and the limitation of the loading in the Johnson street bridge to thirty-four tons would be a very retrograde step.

"If the bridge is designed on the lines we discussed with Mr. Rust, that is to say, the tracks spaced 13 feet centres, with a total width of roadway of 45 feet, and the loading made suitable for running electric locomotives over the bridge, that would be satisfactory to our company.

"Unless these engineering points can be agreed upon, I think it is useless for our solicitors to meet and discuss the proposed agreement, particularly as I have already pointed out, the modified design is so much at variance with that which we had already agreed upon in March, 1913, and the recent description which we received a little over a week ago, is the first intimation we have had that the width and loadings of the bridge had been changed.

After fully discussing the matter, the committee held to the position adopted on Friday that it would only make provision for passenger traffic, and freight accommodation must be provided by the company. The committee will meet again on Friday morning to give an opportunity to receive the officials of the company, if they desire to be heard in the matter.

PREPARING FOR THE COMING BY-ELECTION

Several Candidates Are Already in Field for Seat; One By-law is to Be Voted On

Now that Alderman Cuthbert's resignation has been definitely received, and will be accepted by the city council on Monday next, the interest in the forthcoming by-election begins to revive. Some candidates announced themselves immediately after the appointment of the alderman to the position of industrial commissioner last month, but as the resignation was held over, no new names were announced beyond those intimated at that time, namely, R. B. McMicking and W. M. Wilson.

Strong pressure has been brought to bear on Captain McIntosh to allow his name to be mentioned in connection with the vacancy. He resigned from the school board in order to contest a seat at the council, and although succeeding well in January, did not pull in getting placed among the first ten names. He was twelfth on the list. The captain stated this morning that he had accepted the request of his friends, and would be a candidate at the forthcoming election.

Ex-Alderman Beard's name has also been mentioned in connection with the vacancy. This will be the first time that there has been a by-election among the aldermanic seats since the ward system was abolished, the last vacancy of this character being in ward three, on April 2, 1912. Although the weather is against campaigning, the by-election is likely to be an interesting one owing to the number of public questions which will arise for discussion among the candidates, particularly the bridge negotiations, the telephone conduit agreement, and the early closing movement. Each of the issues looked much easier when the present council took office, but experience has shown that the solution is attended with difficulties not contemplated earlier in the year.

The Voters' league would have held a meeting this evening on the subject, but the uncertainty as to the date of the resignation has deterred them. There will be a meeting of the league, however, next week, when the pending vacancy will be considered, and it is expected the league will determine the candidate it proposes to support.

The intention is to submit a by-law at the same time to enable the council to divert the sum of $14,500 remaining over from the Ross Bay sea-wall construction fund for the purpose of improvements at the cemetery, and for the repairs to the Rock Bay bridge. The improvement of Block Q at the cemetery will absorb $5,500 of the total, and the bridge requires $6,500, leaving only a small balance for other work in the cemetery. However, the city engineer is reporting on Mr. Case's letter with regard to the groynes of the sea-wall, which were provided in the original proposal during the time the wall was built to prevent erosion. Such heavy seas as occurred last November are a great test on the capacity of the wall, the design of which was praised by an eminent authority as the chief engineer of harbours and lighthouses, Col. Anderson, and it is stated some damage has already been done to the wall.

Having passed the estimates, and approved the tax rate, the finance committee finds itself in a difficulty with regard to the financing of works outside those provided for, and both these totals are not met in the schedule, hence the desire to find money by the diversion of funds from the sea-wall. This will be the second time that the ratepayers have had an appeal of this character made to them, as previously funds were obtained for the building of the balustrade and the driveway between it and the cemetery from a diversion of the remainder of the balance to the credit of the loan. The council, however, is in the position that something must be done with the accommodation in the cemetery for interments outside those of the Anglican and Catholic churches, the amount of space available being strictly limited. The members of the council seem considerably divided whether money from the fund should be transferred to be expended for a bridge in another part of the town, however desirable the work may be.

The sky reflection of the lights of London has been seen in favorable weather fifty miles distant.
